WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—“Big navy” forces in Congress will urge the adoption of a $250,000,000 cruiser and submarine building program at the forthcoming session, with a disclaimer that the nation is being entered into competitive building with Great Britain or Japan, Representative Butler, Republican, of Pennsylvania, chairman of the House naval affairs committee and titular leader of the “big navy” clan, indicated today.

Even with a building program of this size, covering a period of five to eight years, the United States would find itself at the end of that period far below Great Britain in naval strength, Butler asserted.

FIRST NATIONAL STUDIOS, HURBAN, Cal., Sept. 24.—I want to announce to President Coolidge that the appointment of Dwight Morrow as ambassador to Mexico is perfectly satisfactory to me.

I am going to Mexico next month and the richer the ambassador the better it will suit me.

P. S.—Slow counting was all that beat Hollywood out of a championship. The Chicago referee would have begun counting quicker but he couldn't think what number to begin with, then he counted halves, too.

Daylight Savings Time Comes To End Tonight

New Castle returns to eastern standard time schedule on Sunday morning, daylight savings time, which has been observed here since early in May, ending tonight.

Theoretically the daylight savings time periods ends at 2 o'clock Sunday morning, but most New Castle residents will “turn the clocks back an hour” before retiring tonight.

Daylight savings time also ends tonight in Pittsburgh and other cities in this district, which have been observing the fast time schedule.

(It has been suggested in previous years that in order to avoid damaging the clocks in making the time change that instead of turning the hands back one hour, they be turned on 11 hours.)

WORKMAN FATALY HURT ON NEW BANK BUILDING

William Wilson, 55, married, whose home was at 81 Corry avenue, Cleveland, O., an iron worker employed by the United Erecting company, on the construction work at the new building of the First National Bank of Lawrence county, at the corner of Washington and Mercer streets, was fatally injured in an accident at the building, at 8:30 o'clock this morning. He was rushed to the New Castle hospital, but his injuries proved such that his death followed in less than an hour.

According to accounts of the mishap, a heavy, 52 foot pole, operated by an engine, was being used to place steel beams. The iron-worker is said to have been “riding the pole” to assist in putting a beam in place.

A guy rope on the control in some manner, “let go” and the heavy wooden pole, the size and weight of a large telegraph line pole dropped, carrying the unfortunate iron-worker to the pit of the building. In falling the pole fell on top of Wilson. He sustained internal injuries and both legs were crushed.

Fellow employees rushed to his assistance and White's ambulance was summoned. While the foreman, Henry Roberts took charge of the injured man, Patrolman Thomas Jones kept a crowd of curious from entering the enclosure. He was rushed to the hospital, but his injuries were fatal and death occurred at 9:15 a. m.

WOULD BOND DRY AGENTS

Prohibition Bureau Has New Plan Under Consideration

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—A proposal to bond all dry agents as a means of protecting both the public and the government was under consideration today by the Prohibition bureau.

The recent killing of a Maryland farmer by a dry agent, and the statement of Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Lowman that corruption is rampant in the service, have brought the question of more effective control over enforcement officials to a head.

Prohibition headquarters understood that legislation would be proposed at the next session of congress to put agents under penal bond of from $2,000 to $5,000, to guarantee faithful performance of their duties. Probably no objection to such a bill would be interposed.

In connection with the proposal it was stated that new orders have been issued that firearms must be used only in self-defense in enforcement operations.

Warnings have been issued to agents that they must observe every feature of the federal laws in making searches, seizures or investigations relating to violation of the Volstead act.

Agents who fail to meet these requirements will be dismissed from the service and will not have the backing of the federal government should they be arrested by state authorities, officials said.

Page Mister Webster! Campus Jargon---1928 Model---Is Bewildering

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—There's a lot of money waiting for the enterprising soul who compiles a dictionary of college lingo which will make the chatter of Mary and her brother, Joe College, understandable to the world outside the campus.

Imagine the bewilderment of Ma and Pa, down in the country, when Mary comes home for a vacation at Christmas time announcing, “Well Mom, I sure had a whirl with that gent at the dormitory. He was so well, I did tail spins all evening.”

With the aid of a 1927 collegiate dictionary Mary's dotting parents will be able to discover that a gent is college man, and a “dammyatory brawl” is just an innocent informal little house dance at the dormitory. A “whirl” is a good time and “tail spins” is a figure of speech meaning “thrilled to pieces.” “Swell elegant” is the collegiate way of saying “perfectly lovely.”

The New Slang.

Thumbing the pages of the dictionary a bit further you will discover, among others, the following terms and their definitions set forth for the edification of the older generation.

Sudden rush of blood to the head—extreme embarrassment.

Like nothing else—in a class by itself.

My, cow!—For goodness sake, or what have you.

Pilot And Two Passengers In German Plane Are Uninjured In Crash.

(International News Service)
BERLIN, Sept. 24.—Another air tragedy, the third to overtake German commercial aviation in as many days, today claimed the life of one person, a mechanic, while the pilot and two passengers escaped without injury.

This latest crash occurred between Stettin in north Germany, on the Baltic coast, and Calmar. The propeller of the plane, the “D-683,” shattered shortly after the plane took off from Stettin, compelling the pilot to make a forced landing on the beach. The jolting of the machine catapulted Mechanic Harder out of the cockpit and he was drowned.

PARIS, Sept. 24.—One of the most important events on the program of the American Legion's pilgrimage to Paris got under way today when 250 past commanders of the Legion left Paris in two special trains for a two-weeks' tour of Europe. The tour will include visits to Brussels, Rome, London, Metz, Strasbourg and Nice.

General John J. Pershing did not accompany the tour, which fact caused considerable embarrassment to Legion officials as advance information had said General Pershing was to head the party.

General Pershing, it is understood here, changed his mind and decided not to accompany the tour, taking the position that the Legion's pilgrimage was officially a pilgrimage to France, and not one to all of Europe. Therefore the general decided that (Continued On Page Two)

(International News Service)
SPOKANE, Wash., Sept. 24.—Finis will be written across the sky in fire and smoke tonight when the National Air races come to a close after a week which aviation enthusiasts declared has witnessed the greatest mass aerial contests since man first started to fly.

As today's packed program was started, officials of the National Air Derby association of Spokane were awaiting word from Rene Fonck, French aviator in reply to the association's invitation that he come to Spokane from New York in a non-stop flight instead of proceeding to San Francisco.

Major John T. Fancher, managing director, made it known today that the association will undertake to compensate C. A. (Duke) Schiller, Canadian birdman, and Eddie Stinson, Detroit ace, for a part of the expense involved in their attempted non-stop flights from Roosevelt field.

Today's program is to include a free-for-all race for the western flying trophy and $2,000 in prizes, a sport race contest between baby planes for an aero trophy, the contest for the liberty engine builders trophy for observation type planes, the Dayton Daily News race for light planes, which carries a trophy and $1,000 in prizes, and the Packard Motor Car company races for large capacity planes.

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—Gene Tunney will remain undisputed world's heavy-weight boxing champion.

The Illinois Boxing commission, John C. Righeimer, chairman, announced today, will not consider a protest of the decision of the Tunney-Dempsey bout here Thursday night.

“As far as the commission is concerned the protest of the decision filed by Leo P. Flynn, Dempsey's manager, will not be considered, as the bout was conducted in accordance with the rules and regulations of the commission. The decision as rendered by Referee Dave Barry will stand.”

Instructions covering just such a situation as arose in the fight Thursday were given the referee and time-keepers and there is no reason the decision as rendered should not stand,” the commission chairman stated.

FONCK READY FOR CROSS-COUNTRY HOP

(International News Service)
COURTISSE FIELD, N. Y., Sept. 24.—Ruth Elder will not be able to hop off for Paris in her monoplane, American Girl, until tomorrow afternoon at the earliest, because of unfavorable weather over the Atlantic. Curtiss Field officials announced early today.

Captain Rene Fonck's non-stop flight to San Francisco may start today, however. Captain Fonck hoped to start this morning, arrive at his destination tomorrow and return Monday. The trip will be made in the twin-motored Sikorsky biplane, Ville De Paris as a tryout preliminary to the proposed Paris hop.

The actress-flyer and engine test pilot Stephen Edwards, both of the U. S. navy, who have been working with Fonck on the plane, have obtained a six days' extension of leave and probably will make the transcontinental hop with the French ace. Several civilian passengers also will be carried.

Miss Elder will be accompanied by Pilot George Haldeman on her flight. Undismayed by the tragedy which overtook other flyers over the Atlantic, the daring girl is determined to go through with the project against the advice of experts.

The plane will be taken up for a four-hour instrument and engine test today. An instrument expert has finished the work of calibrating the instruments.

Fear Movie Star On Plane Trip Is Forced Down In Desert

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 24.—Grave fear was expressed here today for the fate of Marion Mack, Hollywood film actress, and her pilot, Frank Tomick, whose plane “Miss Hollywood” is believed to have been forced down in the desert stretches of Nevada or in the mountains of Utah while on an attempted flight from the film capital to Chicago.

The actress-flyer and her pilot took off from Clover field last Wednesday bearing a good will message from the film colony to Dempsey which was to have been delivered to the boxer before he stepped into the ring with Gene Tunney.

The plane dropped out of sight almost immediately after the start.

None of the four carrier pigeons, carried on the flight, had returned to their roost today.

There's a pleasure to spring and to summer's heat, and a zest in the winter's snow, but there's still another time in the year that transcends all the others I know. It's the autumn time when the leaves turn brown, and the air is like some old wine, when the skies are blue and meadows are seared, and the days are delightful and fine. When the hillsides look like some artist's work, with their riots of henna and gold, each year the autumn has some new charm, a picture that never grows old. When the golden rods droop by the dusty road, and the evenings are nipped with frost, oh a year without autumn and all its joys would be a year too little. So sing of the spring and the summer time, of their splendors now gone before, but autumn's the time I enjoy the most, today it's just seventy-four.

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—Jack Dempsey, the man who almost came back, told International News Service today that, contrary to all reports, he did not contemplate making a protest "at this time" of the decision of Referee Dave Barry on Thursday night when Gene Tunney retained the heavyweight title.

"I will issue no statement to newspapers, as it has been stated," the former heavyweight champion said. "I have nothing in mind at this time as to a protest of Barry's decision and my manner of counting the seconds when I had Gene on the floor in that seventh round."

To Go To New York
Dempsey said he probably would remain in Chicago until Monday, when he will leave for New York. He expects to spend several days in New York and then return to his home in Los Angeles. He will be accompanied East by his wife, Estelle Taylor, the screen star.

The pugilist made it plain he did not intend to engage in a controversy at this time with the Illinois commission regarding the dispute over the count given Tunney. He did not say he would not ultimately back up his manager, Leo P. Flynn, who yesterday filed a protest with the commission, but he declared the entire matter would be dropped by him, at least for the present.

Dempsey has completely recovered from cuts and bruises sustained in his fight with Tunney and was extremely cheerful today.

BIG NAVY CLAN IN CONGRESS WILL ASK FOR CRUISERS

rine tonnage," said Butler, pointing out that this figure is less than the figures proposed by the United States and Japan at the Geneva conference held at the call of President Coolidge last summer.

"But there isn't the slightest chance of Congress starting out this winter on the theory that the United States must reach the present cruiser and submarine strength of Great Britain and Japan. To equal Great Britain's present strength we would have to build 65 cruisers, costing 15,000,000 each."

Butler predicted that any program adopted by Congress would be based upon the belief that a future parity between the great naval powers will result in an agreement on a permanent ratio.

"We expect to learn from the President what Great Britain did not agree to limit cruiser tonnage and why she thinks that she needs so many cruisers to protect her trade lanes when neither the United States or Japan want to enter upon a huge construction program."

The House naval affairs committee, Chairman Butler said, would await the annual message of President Coolidge before formulating a naval program for the session. He indicated that the President would be expected to tell Congress just why the Geneva conference failed.

"There won't be any wild business," said Butler. "What we want to find out is just what is necessary to round the American navy into a well developed unit and then provide for it."

The House naval affairs committee, Chairman Butler said, would await the annual message of President Coolidge before formulating a naval program for the session. He indicated that the President would be expected to tell Congress just why the Geneva conference failed.

"There won't be any wild business," said Butler. "What we want to find out is just what is necessary to round the American navy into a well developed unit and then provide for it."

FATE PURSUES INCUBATOR BABY

For 24 years the life of Marian Bleakley, now Mrs. Dewey Brown, has been almost a continuous court battle. She has been nationally known as the "incubator baby," because she was in the baby exhibit at the St. Louis World's Fair in 1903. Her mother, Mrs. Charlotte Bleakley, was told her baby died at birth, only to learn later that it was the child of another who had died and that her daughter had been adopted. A sensational kidnapping followed. Mrs. Brown now is suing her husband for divorce and for the custody of their six-week-old baby girl. Photos above are of Mrs. Brown, as she looks today, and as a child.

Coffee Shop Is Being Equipped

Work On Completion Of The Castleton Being Rushed By Workers

LOBBY OF HOTEL NEARS COMPLETION

In order that The Castleton can open completely equipped, workmen of the W. G. Chew company of Pittsburgh, hotel outfitters, are ceaseless in their activities at the new hostelry.

Today, under the direction of H. G. Keiser of the Chew company, they are engaged in installing the equipment of the coffee shop, which will be one of the main features of the new hotel. A series of counters will be used, which will be finished in walnut to correspond with the rest of the downstairs trim, and to the traveler, or to the one who wishes a hurried lunch, this will be the mecca.

Mr. Keiser. Already most of the furnishings of the shop have been placed and there remains only to connect up the gas and the plumbing.

A few days ago fixtures for the bar and the beauty shops arrived, and workmen of the W. G. Chew company are now installing a manicure table. Along with this, there will be facilities for permanent waving, water-repelling and marcelling. In the barber shop there will also be three chairs, as well as a shoe shining stand.

As the carpenters make progress, the lobby of the hotel is rapidly taking form, and when completed, says the superintendent of construction, it will be the some of hotel lobbies in western Pennsylvania. Of course, he states, there will be many larger, but there are none that are more complete and better designed.

In the guest rooms on the bedroom floors decorators are laying carpets and placing furniture as fast as the army of cleaners finish washing out the rooms. The carpets, of different design in each room, were selected to harmonize with the wall papers of each room.

Outside of the hotel, workmen have removed the timekeeper's shanty, which was located on Falls street, and in a short time the paving will extend completely around the hotel.

Plate glass windows are now in all of the storeroom frames and each of these is being finished quickly, so that they may be occupied by the time of the opening.

That Colonel Blackstone of Pittsburgh will address the first fall meeting of the members of the New Castle Credit Exchange, to be held the first week in October, was the statement made today by Ray F. Hall, manager of the exchange.

Mr. Hall feels very fortunate in being able to secure such an able man to set forth credit ideas before the local merchants. Col. Blackstone has been in credit work for many years, in fact, he is one of the oldest pioneers in the National Retail Credit association.

It was at the annual convention of retail credit men held this year at Providence, R. I., that Col. Blackstone consented to address the first fall meeting of the retail merchants of New Castle.

Miss Loretta Lee Scores Triumph

New Castle Girl's Homecoming
Concert Program Is Fine Success.

New Castle's Fall and Winter season of music opened Friday night in the Senior High School Auditorium, with Miss Loretta Lee, soprano, in a "Homecoming Concert". As an artistic endeavor it was an unqualified success. As a homecoming affair it lacked much, for the house numbered not more than 400.

Just why this should have been just one of those questions. Loretta Lee can sing, gloriously, magnificently, entrancingly, but to this golden voice of hers was the added attraction that here was a New Castle girl, home for a short time on a visit who was willing to sing for her home folks before leaving for her work in Baltimore. What the crowd lacked in numbers they made up in enthusiasm and Miss Loretta met their every demand with encores until it seemed as though she would reach the limit of physical endurance.

Varied Program.
For her program she used numbers from the Italian, the French, the German and two groups in English. Difficult arias and tinkling little folk songs she handled with the same ease and her range and quality of tone were such that even those who know her, were surprised.

It was a wonderful concert, artistically. It hasn't been so many years ago that the young lady walked across the same stage to get her high school diploma, and it isn't going to be many more years until it is going to be a distinction to get her back for if any New Castle singer showed promise of developing into a star of the first water, Loretta Lee is that person. She was accompanied by Howard Green, a youngster as musicians go, but a talented one. His work stood out.

Last night's concert was sponsored by the Music club and the ladies of this splendid organization are to be congratulated upon their effort. It is a pretty courtesy to sponsor a local artist's concert and such things justify the existence of the Music club.

Sunday night, September 25, Miss Lee sings over KDKA at 7 o'clock. She has been invited and has accepted the invitation of Victor F. Saudek, musical director of KDKA to appear as the guest star with the Little Symphony orchestra in a Wagnerian program.

We announce that on Sunday evening, at 8 p. m., Dr. C. H. Holcomb, pastor of First Christian church, will preach on this novel. Buy a copy and read it, $2.00.

God and the Grocerymen.

Is God being crowded out of American life? After three years of study of the situation Harold Bell Wright gives his readers this constructive and vitally interesting novel. With all his human understanding he pictures the men and women of today and shows a world in which religion seems to be fading before our eyes. With brilliant effect he weaves his story involving the churchmen and business men, the mothers and daughters, the older and younger generations of any small town. It is a world, as he sees it, starved for religion, and he is not satisfied with presenting it merely as such. He goes a step further and in constructive fashion shows how the truth can come to such a city as Westover.

In the pages of "God and the Grocerymen," you see once again the figure of Dan Matthews, one of Harold Bell Wright's most loved characters. You follow the story of Joe Paddock, the grocerymen, and of his wife. You read of young Georgia Paddock and the difficult path of her love for Jack Ellory. Then too there are the old people out at the farm and every page they appear on is a delight. It is full canvas and every character contributes to the whole.

You can read "God and the Grocerymen," for its story. It is dramatic and vivid. You can read it for its characters. They ring true to the human nature all about you. You can read the book for its powerful, constructive expression of the religious need of the world today. Surely no one can read it without the realization that into its making have gone Harold Bell Wright's deepest held beliefs concerning life.

FOOTBALL BECOMES KING

DURING the next week or two a certain crown will pass through a shuffling process and end up on a new head. King Baseball is about to be deposed and football is about to ascend his throne. Their subjects are reconciled to the change so the transition should be orderly, though noisy. The only thing that can cause more stir in the sports world than a world series game or a football contest is a world series game and a football contest on the same Saturday afternoon.

No doubt the series will appease the appetite of most baseball fans for another season and it is a certainty the hunger of the gridiron enthusiast is near the starvation point after ten months of fasting.

As the season opens every true fan hopes the differences of the Big Three will be permanently patched up this season and that football history will not repeat itself in this respect. Especially in the field of amateur sports it is desirable that the entente cordiale be preserved. Unfriendly relations are to be expected among mercenary professionals, but are decidedly out of place among amateurs.

For the next several Saturday afternoons the nation will close up shop and jam thousands of university, college, preparatory school and high school stadiums, bowls, grandstands, bleachers and sidelines scattered across the length and breadth of this land. A few years ago football captured the fancy of sport-loving America and there is no indication that its popularity is on the wane.

Baseball is the sport of tired business men, clerks and factory workers. Football is the sport of the fur-coated flapper and school girl, college and ex-college folk, parents of those clad in moleskin, and of many others who at this time of year transfer their affection from baseball to football.

YOUR TOWN AND YOU

YOUR town boosts you. Why not do as well by the town as it does by you? No citizen is so powerful, none so humble, but what the town is an aid to him in some way or other.

The food that he eats, the clothes he wears, the recreation and amusement that he enjoys, all originate in the town, because the money with which they are procured is made there.

When a fellow boosts his own town he does not stop there. He is performing an act that improves his own condition, for every good word and every good deed has its elevating influence.

A few people are always home town boosters. They accomplish much in the way of community betterment, and this improves the condition of not only themselves, but also of those who do no boosting at all.

If every citizen would constitute himself a home town booster the result collectively would be many times as great, and opportunities for self improvement would be more numerous.

Think it over in your odd moments. Then get into the boost wagon and hit the pace.

THE REWARDS OF SAVING

A CHICAGO banker has found that if the "widow's mite," assuming it to be a cent, had been invested 1900 years ago at 5 per cent semi-annual interest, compounded, it today would reach the brain-tiring sum of $563,100,000,000,000,000,000,000,000.

Now the banker or no other person would say that the widow ought to have invested her mite rather than give it to the cause she did, but every person will point to it as an illustration of the tremendous expansion a small sum of money will experience if placed at compound interest.

The banker gives a more practical example of his point, when he says that $50 a month placed in a savings bank paying 3 per cent will net the saver in thirty years the surprising sum of $29,113, or if invested at 5 per cent in bonds will become $41,609 in the same period of time.

Any school boy can catch the lesson of thrift which these examples teach. Thrift as an abstraction may not have much of an appeal for youth, but in such terms as the Chicago banker uses, the subject becomes practical and interesting and illustrates that habits of industry and thrift bring their reward.

THE COUNTRY DOCTOR

THE scarcity of the country doctor as a source of keen popular interest is matching the scarcity of teachers in the rural districts which has been met by consolidations and the employment of specially trained "teachers' helpers."

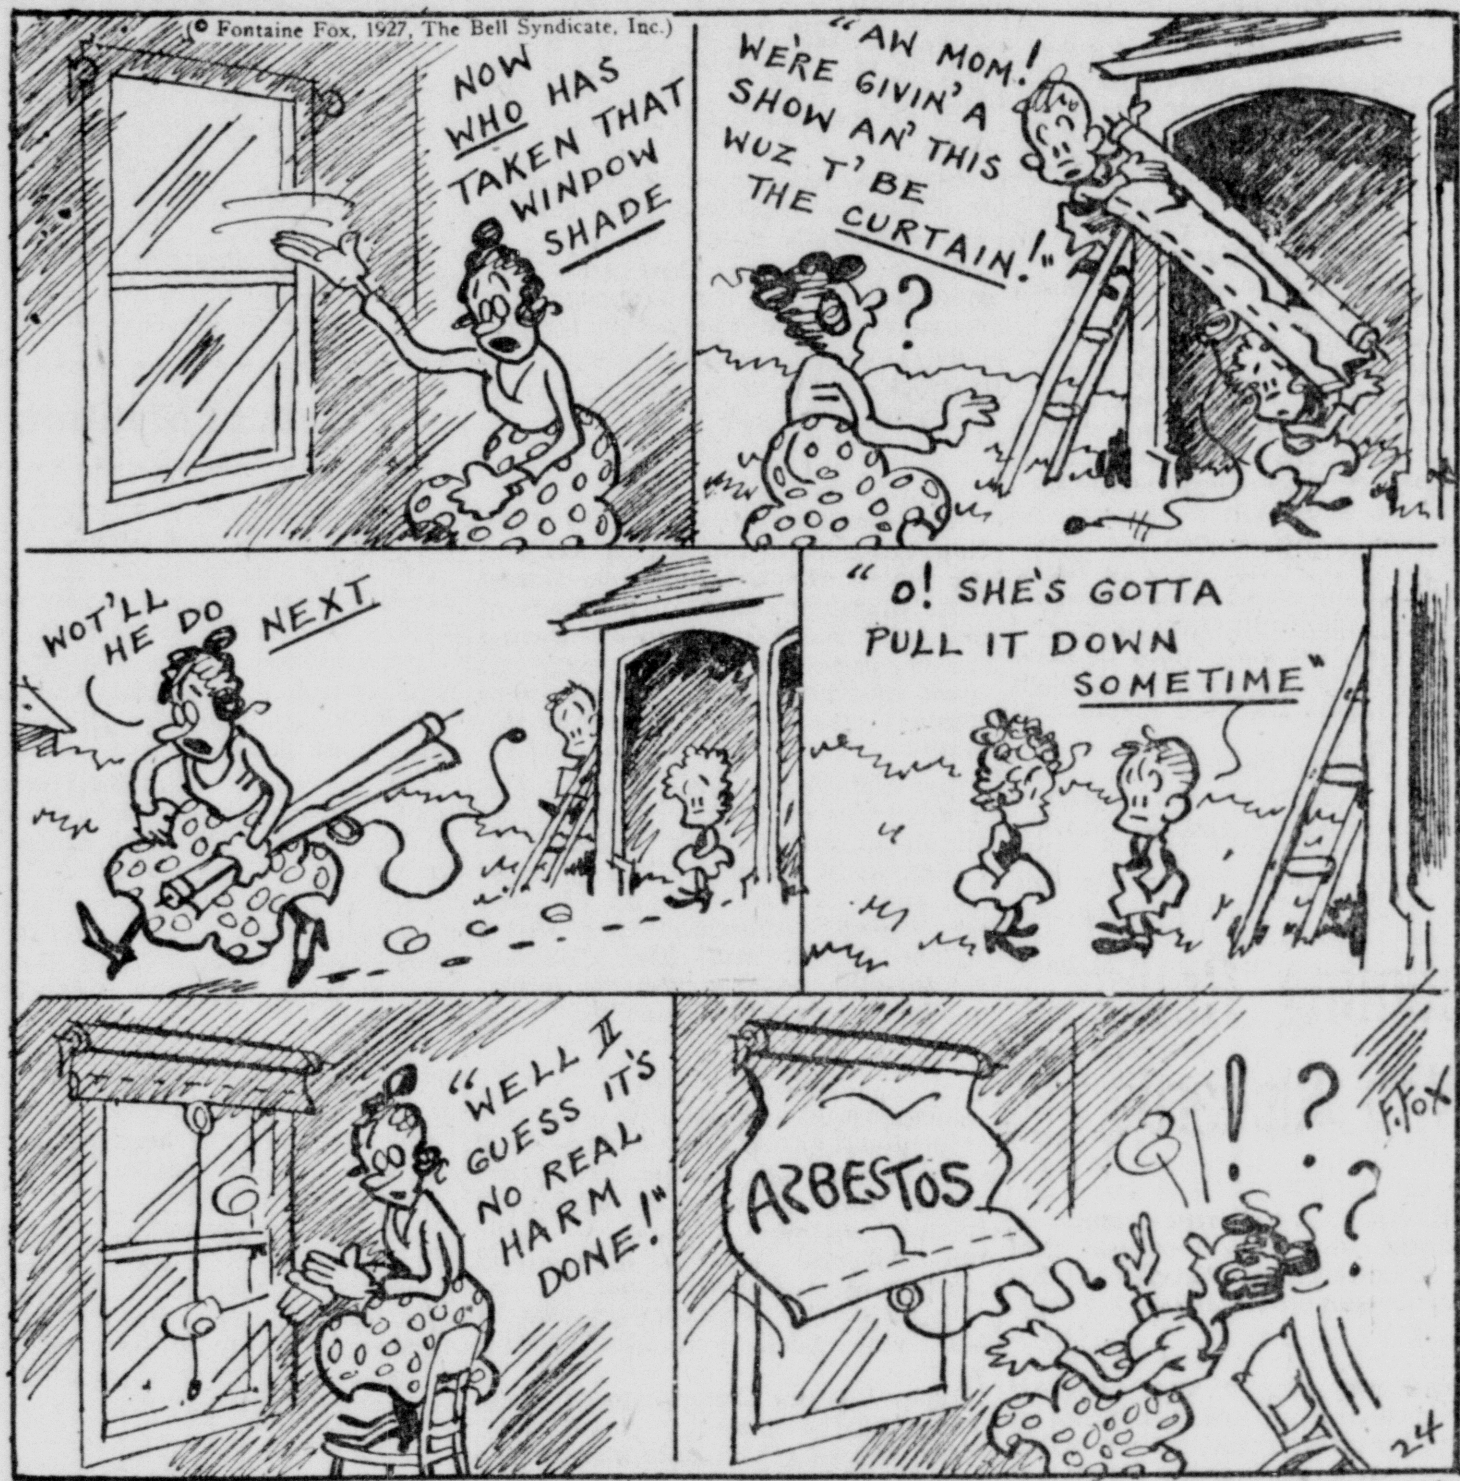

The country doctor is stronger in tradition than the country teacher and his disappearance even by rumor is disturbing.

In the generation represented by the grandparents of today the country doctor was one of the greatest American institutions. He carried his supply of crude drugs in his saddle bags and an exhaustless sunshine in his face and his cheery words. Whatever he may have lacked of scientific attainment to handicap him as compared to his town brother, he compensated for in that rare atmosphere of fraternal cheerfulness which no country doctor was without.

Patients improved when they heard his horse's hoofs on the road. All the people for miles around were as members of one big family so far as the doctor was concerned. As the towns grew the young doctors chose to display their skill there, some because the life was less laborious, some because they believed rewards better. The country doctor of today is at the disappearing point, largely because of his consideration for wife and children. He says frankly cash returns are satisfactory often, but that he wants better conditions for wife and family than he finds in the country.

Men who have attended conventions have noticed that very often the most prominent citizens in a city drive their own cars to show visitors attending the conventions the city in which the convention is held. Many lasting friendships have been made in this way. New Castle is going to be a convention city and many prominent citizens are going to get into the game of showing visitors around.

A Mechanical Cotton Picker.

Gloomy and Foolish.

Russia Will Pay.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1927, By N. Y. American, Inc.)

International Harvester Company has a machine for picking, stripping and cleaning cotton that will do away with old-fashioned hand picking. That will cut the production cost of cotton down, for the "per strip" will strip five bales of cotton a day with only two men on the machine.

If accurate, that news is more important even than the result of the Dempsey-Tunney fight. It might temporarily demoralize the Southern labor market, but will enable American cotton growers to compete with cheap labor in Egypt, the Sudan, India and elsewhere.

Dean Inge, of St. Paul's sometimes foolish as well as gloomy, says, "Government of by and for the people is a trap." That's what the late Sultan of Turkey said, also the late Czar of Russia, and some others.

Government of the people, by the people and for the people, may not be all that Abraham Lincoln hoped it would be. But it's an improvement on government by the accident of heredity, or government by a self-elected "upper class."

When you have government by and for the people, you at least have power to kick out and punish those that make government a failure. It isn't the intelligence of the average voter, but the fact that he can throw out of office that makes him important.

Bolshevist Russia and France have agreed on a debt settlement. Russia claims certain differences because of the injury inflicted upon Russian business, but will settle in full, in six years. United States boy financiers that bought Kerensky's bonds and the Czar's bonds, when a microcephalic idiot might have refused them, will pick up their ears at this. Russia makes a $6,000,000 (six million) payment at once.

If Russia begins paying her debts, United States high finance will change its attitude and see bolshevism beginning to grow little white wings.

Lieutenant Koennecke, brilliant German aviator, on his way from Germany to the United States, flying east, has reached Angora. Kemal Pasha's capital, on the first leg of his flight. He has a radio operator and has financial back with him, and made the 1,875 miles from Cologne to Angora in less than eighteen hours.

Another German, Gerhart Friesler, whose specialty is "flying stunts," has broken a world's record by flying upside down, feet up toward the sky from Cologne to Bonn, twenty-one miles, in fifteen minutes. Some will say that such a "stunt" is useless. But it isn't. It shows that a man can do what he makes up his mind to do, and that's important.

For the second time in her history the Mauretania has crossed the ocean in five and one-half days. She burns oil instead of coal, and passengers say that vibration, noticeable in coal burning days, has entirely disappeared. Big tanks filled with oil on either side of the hull perhaps take up that vibration. In any case, they help to take up some of the world's surplus oil, which may not be surplus very long.

German shipbuilders promise ships that will cross in four and one-half days. They will be oil burners. Extra speed will consume a terrific amount of extra fuel, but three trips instead of two will make up for the extra fuel cost.

Cy Caldwell, veteran flier and authority on aviation, tells engineers that New York City has only eight planes for defense. Mr. Caldwell is just back from a fruitless airplane search for Nungesser and Galt.

Eight planes cost perhaps $240,000, not much of an investment to defend New York, which contains the sub-treasury and could yield to a well-managed raiding air fleet several billions of ransom.

Inasmuch as the national government cannot see its way to establishing an air force to meet modern conditions, state governments should take the matter in their own hands to protect themselves.

AMERICANS

Those people who have the best right and title to call themselves native Americans are the Indians.

A great many people believe that the Indians are Asiatic stock who wandered to this country through Alaska. However that may be, they arrived here a long while before the white man did and were the real first settlers, if they can be called settlers.

Their mode of life comprise many interesting characteristics. They are an outdoor people and live by hunting and fishing. Many movements, such as the Woodcraft, hark back to Indian customs in their effort to teach the young people the advantages of outdoor life.

Every race is interested in preserving all that it can of its autochthonous civilization. The Germans have a proper pride in their Teutonic ancestry and legends, such as are played upon in the Wagner operas. There is a considerable movement for the preservation of Gaelic speech or the original speech in Ireland, while the Welsh reluctantly gave up their Welsh tongue. Americans of today should give more heed to the Indian. He had his art, his code of morals and his mode of life, which are all of extreme interest.

The movement has received the commendation of the Federal authorities in charge of Indian reservations who have not always been as considerate of the Indian as they should. Many prominent public-spirited citizens, especially women, are behind the enterprise.

The Indians had some crafts, such as the making of jewelry, basket weaving and the manufacture of blankets which have been handed down from father to son in their tribes. There is danger of these arts being lost unless they are fostered in some way.

Various tribes from all over the country and from Mexico will send representatives to this fiesta who will bring their handicraft and also exhibit their ceremonial customs.

It is hoped that this proposal will be favorably accepted throughout the country and will receive its proper attention.

THE RIGHT TO FLY

There has been much indignation throughout the world because somebody hasn't compelled aviators to quit flying to their death on long-distance flights.

I regret my inability to partake of this indignation. To me it seems more or less a question that should be left up to the individual aviator. His life is his own. What he is to do with it, in working out his career, is chiefly his own business.

Young Mr. Lindbergh flew across the Atlantic ocean, you may remember, alone, with a single-motored ship equipped to land on land and not equipped to float on water. Lindbergh was a young man, without reputation, without property, without family. He had his own ideas about a career for himself. He thought it important to fly across the Atlantic ocean. Not in search of better international relations. Not in search of scientific data. No, of course not. In search of a career.

Lindbergh got across. He has his career. He might have drowned. But he was willing to take that risk. It was his right to take his own risks in his own way.

Let everybody take his own risks. We who sit safely at home should not be required to do the worrying or the legislating for these brave fellows who choose to risk their lives in attempts to fly from place to distant place.

Speaking of Lindbergh, I have just heard another good story about him. I do not guarantee the story's truth, but it was picked up on the flying field at Wichita, Kansas, and relayed to me by one of my trusted scouts.

In the days before the Atlantic flight, when Charley Lindbergh was looking for a job, the young aviator happened to be in Wichita, without a plane to drive. He was a good flyer, but nobody seemed to want good flyers.

A rich young man was flying hither and yon in a "crate" he had picked up somewhere. He was taking off that afternoon for Chicago. Lindbergh asked for a ride as far as St. Louis. The rich young man looked him over and said, "Why, I'm not stopping at St. Louis."

"I wouldn't ask you to stop, just let me out. If I may ride that far I'll jump out and save you the trouble of stopping. I have my parachute." The rich young man could hardly refuse. He permitted the unknown jobless aviator to step in, and at St. Louis he permitted him to step out, into the air.

I believe the story goes to say that the rich young man was on the official Lindbergh reception committee when the hero consented to make Wichita one of his stops. On his round-the-country flight, but I am not certain on this red

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

HOOVER AND THE PRESIDENCY.
Since President Coolidge made his famous statement as to what he "chose to do" the name of Secretary of Commerce Hoover has been mentioned very often as a possible Republican candidate for the presidency. As a matter of fact, his name is receiving more attention in connection with the next Republican National Convention than any other man in the United States except the President himself.

Mr. Hoover is not a politician, using that word in its very best sense and there never has been a successful president without that qualification. Moreover, he is said to be rather hostile when any word of criticism concerning the wisdom of his acts, is made. As an engineer, as an executive, and as Secretary of Commerce, it would be hard to find his equal. He is not afraid to give his opinion upon any subject falling within the line of his duties. He now says the construction of the seven great engineering projects contemplated by the Nation, including the development of the Colorado River, and the control of the Mississippi River will not seriously disturb the National Budget, and adds that there will be no necessity for abandoning the proposition to radically reduce the income taxes. May be rather startling to the Congressmen who are thinking in vast figures of what will be necessary to appropriate for the proper control of the Mississippi River, to say nothing of the proposed Boulder Canyon Dam on the Colorado.

Secretary Hoover, however, says that only about thirty million dollars will be required annually to carry on both these projects, and that the appropriation of this amount of money will not in any way offset the income tax reduction plan proposed by Secretary Mellon.

It is rather strange that nearly everyone of the men whose names are proposed as Republican candidates for the Presidency are expressing themselves at this time in favor of tax reduction. It has been done by Nicholas Longworth, of Ohio, by Vice President Dawes, and by Senator James Watson of Indiana. The only ones who have not made such statements are Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, who is strong for appropriating a lot of money to help the farmers, and Charles E. Hughes who is very careful about what he says regarding anything.

If it develops that President Coolidge meant to say what he did not say, and is actually determined that he will not accept the nomination at the hands of the Republican Party, Mr. Hoover may see an opportunity to acquire a good deal thicker epidermis than he now possesses.

SOME look at care as if it should not be. As if mishaps to them should never fall. Though hurt and pain must come to you and me. They should know life and never wince at all.

What strange philosophy is this which sees The tears of grief fill up a neighbor's eyes And says: "I shall be spared such agonies. By babe shall live, though many another dies."

Thus blinded to life's facts most common-places Some sing and dance and spend their little wage. Then comes the day they have a loss to face And bitterly they fly into a rage.

Having no strength for trouble and no will These self-deluded persons turn and flee. How could they face a blow prepared for it. Who have not thought that such a thing must be?

Wiser are they who know how close are tears. How near is trouble in its various shades. They build a wall of faith against their fears And plan for hurts from which no one escapes.

Complete Industrial Survey Of City; Plan Aggressive Forward Steps

Announcement is made that the industrial survey of New Castle has been completed under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce as part of the expansion program now under way.

The study was conducted and compiled under the direction of The Hockensbury System, Inc., Harrisburg, Pa., by Mark G. Holtzman, director of the survey department.

The purpose of the study was to diagnose the present situation, so as to have basic data from which the program of securing new industries for New Castle can be developed. This is in line with a national movement for cities to know their own possibilities better, before attempting expansion programs.

The survey in addition to a study of present industries includes sections on raw materials, traffic and transportation, labor, financial, public utilities, markets, mercantile and general information.

Among the outstanding facts developed in the survey are the following:

Population.
In 1920 New Castle had 44,938 people. Through estimates from different sources the figures now indicate 52,700. There are 17,829 males and 16,697 females over 15 years of age.

Present Industries and Occupational Groups.
The total employees of industries, railroads, mercantile, offices, banks and institutions, public utilities, city, county and federal, and miscellaneous are 17,198 men, 3,316 women, or 20,514 total. These employees earn annually $32,613,381.

Transportation.
New Castle is fortunate in its railroad freight service. It is located almost in the center of the Official Freight classification territory, and the five railroads are able to move finished products to the middle west in about the same time as to New England.

Tonnage.
The inbound and outbound freight for 1924 was 5,525,731 tons; 1925, 5,836,918 tons, and in 1926, 6,221,783 tons.

Natural Resources.
The New Castle district stands high in the quantity and quality of its limestone, of which there is recoverable approximately 1,500,000,000 tons. Fire clay and shale deposits are almost unlimited. New Castle has the largest paving brick kiln in the world, containing 206 chambers and 3,380 feet of kiln. The Pittsburgh district uses annually 3,500,000 tons of sand and gravel, of which one-third comes from the New Castle district.

Markets.
The manufactured products can be delivered from New Castle to the centers in the Official Freight territory in from one to three days. In this territory are located all the largest cities, and in the states included is a population of 33,850,683, or approximately one-half of the total. This does not include the Canadian markets with Toronto within two freight days and Montreal four days from New Castle.

Financial.
The total bank resources are $29,534,850, deposits $20,465,518 and loans and discounts $8,131,194. Building and loan assets are $5,722,202. Building permits in 1925 were $2,371,232; 1926, $2,306,810; from January to July, 1927, permits totaled $2,544,265. The postoffice receipts in 1925 were $189,261, and from January to July, 1927, $84,757.

Industrial Sites.
Maps and data show that New Castle has available ample sites and some buildings suitable for new industries.

Public Utilities.

Rates and general service data tabulated in the survey show that the utilities have ample reserves for normal demands, and that they are able to take care of expansion, all being parts of large and well financed corporations.

Recommendations.

The survey recommends that the Chamber of Commerce major on industrial expansion. Between the years 1840 and 1850 New Castle grew 164.2 per cent and between 1890 and 1900 when the steel corporation took over the big plants the increase was 144.3 per cent.

Mr. Holtzman, director of the survey, stated to the executive committee and industrial committee Friday morning that now the time has come for New Castle to make another advance. The population now is showing normal increase.

The special program recommended is: 1. replacing the industries that are now in operation; 2. securing smaller diversified industries, with special emphasis upon those employing female labor, of which there is a surplus, and 3. industries using materials manufactured in New Castle.

The Chamber of Commerce is now working with several prospects for industries in New Castle. The special industries committee, of which John A. Butler is chairman, has been divided into sub-committees who will handle various phases of the program. They hope for the cooperation of all business men in supplying names of prospective industries.

The new industries committee and advisory council which will have charge of the efforts put forth to use the information contained in the survey are as follows:

New industries committee—John A. Butler, chairman; L. B. Round, Howard B. Richards, E. L. Brundage, P. J. Flaherty, Q. A. McBride, W. J. Offutt, Louis G. Genkinger.

Advisory council—Mayor William H. Dunlap, David S. Boie, president Chamber of Commerce; Samuel Foltz, John H. Lamb, L. M. Buchanan, T. H. Hartman, Adolph Green, A. C. Hoyt.

Warmed over soup, or warmed over spuds, or warmed over anything doesn't have much taste. Same way with warmed over political returns. The thrill of getting them hot from the polls is gone, once election day is gone and there's a sort of tastelessness about seeing an official count being made.

Which is by way of leading into the statement that most of Friday afternoon's roaming was done up in Court Room number two where the official returns are being made for the primary of last Tuesday. Three ladies and a gentleman are engaged in compiling the returns of each precinct in the county and after getting the returns on the night of the election the old kick is gone.

There is one tasty bite left in the whole thing and that is watching the returns of the Elder-Blank fight for the county commissioner fight. The unofficial returns show about 40 votes between them and in 81 precincts there could be an error or two here and there.

Both P. O. Elder and Charles H. Blank are present at the recount and regardless of which one wins they are good sportsmen. They sat together Friday afternoon and seemed much more interested in bass fishing than they are in who won. A fellow with a small mind would have been up at the return desk worrying himself gray-headed over the returns. Not these two chaps. They were ready to take what came and figured that life is too short to worry over the outcome.

But when P. O. Elder told that one about a two pound bass jumping into his boat one afternoon the party sort of broke up.

Another interested spectator is Miss

Adda M. Smiley who is going to collect your county taxes for the four years coming. Adda is one of those well known "surprise" candidates. Most folks figured her chances for a win were mighty small. She says she didn't know enough about politics to know that she didn't have a chance and in her ignorance just kept plugging away. Another case of where ignorance was bliss. And when she assumes office as the county treasurer, you can be sure that you'll have the same kind of efficiency there that Dave Nessie has been giving us for the past four years.

Did some roaming up to the Senior High school last night to hear Miss Loretta Lee in her homecoming concert. Perhaps you weren't there, not so many were, but if you weren't you can blame yourself for missing a splendid concert. Some day this young lady is going to be "in lights" if a theatrical term can be pardoned. And when she is remember that she comes from New Castle.

The Music club is to be congratulated for its courtesy to Miss Lee in putting on the concert. They deserved a better crowd, the concert rated a better crowd, but perhaps the folks had other things to do.

If you have a radio, tune in on KDKA Sunday night at 7 o'clock. She has been invited to appear as the soloist with the Little Symphony orchestra from that station and it will be another chance to hear her.

Says Short Skirts Are Life Savers

(International News Service)
LANCASTER, Pa., Sept. 24.—Short skirts are life savers.

That's the opinion of Dr. B. F. Battin, widely known surety company official, expressed in a talk before the Rotary club here.

The abbreviated skirts, says the doctor, permit women to step much faster crossing the streets and thus cut down on accidents. Short skirts have been responsible for a 50 per cent decrease in accidents in New York City, he said.

All an American needs to achieve the impossible is grit, determination and a few camera men.

A Zenith Radio for Every Home

Until this year the Zenith Radio has been too high priced for most homes. However, they have adopted a new policy and are making the most complete line of radios in the country.

They are priced from $100 to $2,500 and you may be assured they will outdemonstrate any other make within their price. We know this is a broad statement, but let us prove it.

Effort Should Be Made Now To Stop Feared Corn Borer

Clean Up Work Best Accomplished When The Corn Is Cut This Fall.

Stop the corn borer from further advances into clean fields.

"Work on the control of the European corn borer has not been completed just because the intensive spring campaign ended July 1," announces County Agent H. R. McCulloch. "While considerable reduction in the number of corn borers is to be expected from the spring campaign, farmers who are interested in keeping the pest within bounds should plan their cultural practices so that the clean-up follows or accompanies their usual farm operations."

Clean-up work for 1927-28 can best be accomplished when the corn is cut this fall. Cut ensilage corn as early as it is ready and as low as possible. In taking the corn to the silo, and after completing silage cutting, clean up all the refuse. A few minutes spent at that time will save hours of work next spring when the refuse becomes spread around the yard or field.

Corn which is to be husked should also be cut and not left as standing stalks, McCulloch declares. Wherever possible it should be moved close to the buildings as soon as cured, where it can be shredded at convenient times. Shredding and silage cutting are two recommended practices for controlling the borer.

In stony ground where it is necessary to leave the corn stubble higher than two inches, go over the field with a drag or pole to crush down the stubble, McCulloch urges. Where fall plowing is done, the stubble should be turned under deeply so it will not heave out during the winter.

The True Invisible Kingdom

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

THE LORD HATH PREPARED HIS THRONE IN THE HEAVENS, AND HIS KINGDOM RULETH OVER ALL. PSALM 103:19.

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL.

All the sad afflictions Samuel had prophesied would follow the people's rejection of Jehovah's kingship over Israel and their choice of a king like those of the nations about them were fulfilled in the heartlessness of Saul, the oppression necessary to provide for "Solomon in all his glory," and the greater severity of Rehoboam which caused the people to rebel against his rule and split the kingdom. "If ye shall do wickedly, ye shall be consumed, both ye and your king." These were the farewell words of faithful old Samuel, and Israel's history through the next 500 years proves he was a true prophet. Saul was utterly devoid of the qualities of kingliness, and after he had repeatedly rejected God, God rejected him and sent Samuel to anoint David, then a youth of only 15 years, living the humble life of a shepherd at Bethlehem.

David did not take the throne until his thirtieth year, but during the 15 years that followed his anointing God put him through the "University of Hard Knocks" that qualified him to become Israel's greatest king. He showed the stuff of which he was made in his conflict with Goliath, when, armed with only a shepherd's sling and staff, he rushed upon the giant with the challenge, "I come to thee in the name of Jehovah of hosts, the God of the armies of Israel, whom thou hast defied."

Another phase of David's kingliness appears in the friendship between him and Jonathan. Indeed, Jonathan appears every bit as kingly as the one who was to succeed Saul in his stead. There was an ideal friendship, nourished by love "passing the love of women."

The Kingship of Self-Control.

Doubtless the best schooling for the throne God gave David was when he taught him to rule his own heart during the period that the jealous Saul was hounding him to kill him. No man is fit to reign over others who cannot control himself. And David so learned patience and submission to the divine will that when the murderous Saul fell into his hands he repeatedly spared his life, abiding God's time and way to bring him to succeed Saul.

When finally David came to the throne one of his first acts after establishing himself in Jerusalem was to bring to the capital city the ancient ark of the covenant, which, from the days of Moses 500 years before, had been the symbol of God's presence among his people. Thus he sought to recognize the invisible throne of Jehovah as superior to his own and doing this he greatly strengthened his own rule.

Solomon's Failure.

But great as Solomon was in all his glory, he failed miserably as a father, and the glory of the kingdom of his father David was shattered through the folly of his son Rehoboam, under whom the kingdom was divided forever. Solomon would have done better if in later life he had taught his son what his own father had taught him, as it is expressed in our golden text for this review lesson: "Jehovah hath established his throne in the heavens, and his kingdom ruleth over all."

The international uniform Sunday school lesson for September 25 is Psalm 103:1-8, the subject being "A Review of the Early Kings of Israel," and the Golden Text, Psalm 103:19.

NEW CHURCH PEWS ARRIVE

Work Of Installing Pews In New Third U. P. Church To Start

Pews for the new Third United Presbyterian church, located at the intersection of Adams and East Washington streets, have arrived, and will be placed in the near future, for the opening which will be held late in October, according to the Rev. S. B. Copeland, pastor of the church. The old church which is on the corner of Bedford and East Washington streets will be abandoned as soon as the new structure can be occupied.

Representatives of the Moeller Organ company of Hagerstown, Md., who have installed the organ now are engaged in tuning and regulating

it. Pipes have been placed on each side of the pulpit.

The pastor's study, which faces Adams street, and is to the rear of the church, is virtually completed. Besides furnishing desk room, the study has a fire place, with two built in book cases on each side of the fireplace. Windows are leaded. The Sunday school rooms are finished in dark oak, to correspond with the rest of the church.

Nazarene Bible Class To Meet

The regular monthly business and social meeting of the Philemon Men's Bible Class of the Church of the Nazarene will be held tonight at 7:45 D. S. T. at the home of Lester Furey, 605 Croton avenue.

The Men's class will meet at 9:30 Sunday morning, Eastern Standard Time for the study of the Sunday School lesson. The subject will be "Putting God First in Life." Rev. G. Howard Rowe, pastor of the church is the teacher of this class.

In Day's News

John T. Robinson, whom the Democrats of Arkansas would like to see in the White House, is one of the two representatives of the State in the United States senate, where he holds a place of prominence and influence as the leader of the Democratic minority. Senator Robinson has been in public service continuously for 25 years. In 1902 he was elected congressman from the Sixth Arkansas district. Ten years later, while still a member of the House he was elected governor of his State. About this time he made a speed record in American political history. He was a representative in Congress, governor, and senator-elect within a period of two weeks. As a speaker Senator Robinson is picturesque and often impressive. He is known among his colleagues as a hard worker and without question he owes much of his success to his industry.

PETER'S ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

OCEAN RANGERS
"Did you ever know a Turtle who meddled much in other folk's affairs?" The jolly Tar glanced inquiringly from one relative to another.

"No!" cried the Turtles and the Terrapins and the Tortoises in chorus. "Our family minds its own business and likes nothing better than to be left alone!"

"Exactly," agreed the son of the sea. "There is no creature who could take less interest in what goes on about him than myself, but Mrs. Seal had twice mentioned a blow she had received, and now she was stroking her brow with her flipper, and moaning as though she were in pain, and I must say I was curious."

"What blow?" asked I.

"The only blow I have ever been dealt—the blow that brought me here," replied Mrs. Seal, and sobbed.

"There, there, there! You might have landed in worse places," murmured I, trying to comfort her. "This sand and these odd rocks are not so bad, once you become used to them. Besides, you may not have to stay here long, you know."

"Gray sealskins, I hope not!" exclaimed my companion. "If I thought I had to I believe I'd roll down the rock and let the waves dash me where they would."

"What! Leave your baby to look out for himself?" cried I, and my words brought the mother to her senses. She turned from grazing mournfully out at sea and cuddled her little one closer.

"No, no, no," crooned she. 'Twas the fright I had that made me think of such a thing even for a second. But when I tell you about it I am sure you will agree with me. It was a terrible experience. For months I, with the rest of my tribe, had been ranging the seas. No waves were too rough for us, no winds to wild. We swam and dove and frolicked with the whitecaps and when we were tired we took a nap—rolled over on our backs, poked our heads and feet above the water and, rocked by the swells, slept."

"But one fine morning we awoke to find that spring was on its way. Then we knew we must pull for the shore. For when warm weather comes we seals know it is time to go housekeeping—time to stop roaming and settle down to the cares of family life on the land, for the ocean is no place to bring up our helpless babies, you know. They would drown in the first wave."

Next—"Son o' Mine Learns to Swim."

Rev. David Sleppy was transferred from the Lawrence Park M. E. church of Erie, Pa., to the Mahoning Methodist, exchanging pulpits with Rev. J. M. Croxall who has been pastor for two years. Rex. Croxall will assume his pastorate with the Erie church on Sunday. Both ministers will move to their respective homes the first of next week.

Rev. J. L. Petrie will begin his work with the Grace M. E. church with the Sunday morning service, succeeding Rev. C. J. Baker who has been pastor for five years and who is now retiring from active work. Rev. Baker expects to reside in this city.

Rev. Petrie has been pastor of the Wampum and Newport M. E. churches for a number of years. He expects to move to this city next week.

All the other Methodist ministers of the city have been returned including the district superintendent, Dr. F. S. Neigh and will preach in their pulpits Sunday morning and evening.

Rev. S. R. Maitland who has been pastor of the Greenwood M. E. church for 12 years was again appointed by conference and will preach Sunday afternoon at 2:30.

October 16 Will Be Mission Day In City

HADLEY NIGHT IS OBSERVED

P. H. C. Of This City Has No
table Meeting; Banquet Feature

Seldom is it the privilege of any local circle of the Protected Home Circle to have guests at the same session both the Supreme and Grand president of this nationally known order. So when Hadley night was observed on September 22 by the New Castle Circle No. 5 an added pleasure to the event was the presence of State Grand President Maude D. Hobaugh of Uniontown.

Never in the history of the local circle was there a gathering of the nature more delightfully carried out, the Hadley campaign closing with a big class added to the Circle roll.

Preceding the regular session a wonderful banquet was tendered the honor guests, campaign members and their candidates, the degree staff and members of the circle.

The culinary forces of the Y. M. C. A. certainly are to be congratulated upon the delicious menu beautifully served at 7:30 where the table appointments were arranged with exquisite taste by those in charge.

A pretty conceit were the place cards with tiny roses attached and the words, "Hadley night, P. H. C. No. 5." The Supreme Officers' table was especially beautiful where officers and visiting guests were seated.

The regular session of the Circle was called to order at 8:30 with the president, Leola Langsdale presiding. It was a banner night and only important business was transacted.

The large Hadley class presented to the president received the mysteries of the order with the famous degree staff of No. 5 in charge. The work of the team was never more impressively given, the retiring drill never more beautifully put on the floor.

At its close the team re-entered the room. Deputy Blanche Canfield asked the supreme President's wife, Mrs. Agnes Reed Hadley to arise and recited to her a beautiful bit of verse and as the team passed each member presented her with a beautiful rose. The picture was a pretty one as Mrs. Hadley stood there with her arms filled with roses.

Briefly she expressed her appreciation of the remembrance and also expressed her happiness in being present in her home city where for years she was associated with the public schools. Mrs. Hadley is a woman of wonderful ability to express her thoughts and surely boosted her girlhood home. Her thoughts for the order were based upon Loyalty and protection and along these lines she spoke.

Accountant George W. Muse in his happy way presided throughout the program. One must hear Sam Francis touch the ivories to realize what wonderful music he can extract from a piano and listen to Captain Sam Haywood of the Sharon degree team and our own Catherine Badger sing together is indeed a treat.

Mrs. Francis Cope is a delightful reader and came in for her share of applause and president Charles Jones of Sharon added much with his vocal selections. Our brother had a wonderful voice—Come again.

The remarks of Grand President, Maude Hobaugh were impressive and to the point and she was received with a shower of applause.

A matter of regret was that Supreme Auditor Dr. R. G. Baird declined to speak owing to the lateness of the hour, but then we all know that the doctor is just right out of the box when it comes to addresses.

The local chamber was beautifully decorated with the colors for the occasion and presented a charming appearance. Later Guardian Emma J. Goss and her faithful committee served lunch and Hadley night in honor of our Supreme President adjourned. Lillie B. Jones.

POLITICAL OBSERVERS EYE OHIO

Political observers throughout the nation are casting eyes toward Ohio in their consideration of presidential timber for the 1928 race. Five Ohioans have been mentioned as possibilities. They are Senators Frank B. Willis and Simeon D. Fess, and Nicholas Longworth, speaker of the house of representatives, Republicans; Newton D. Baker, Woodrow Wilson's secretary of war, and Governor Vic Donahey, Democrats. Ohio, with seven presidents to her credit, is runner-up to Virginia, "Mother of Presidents," which has sent eight men to the White House.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Reports received by Pa Newc this morning indicate that frost was quite general in this locality last night.

Which leads to the recounting of another seasonable, or rather, pre-seasonable report received today. A milkman doing his rounds in the early morning reports that he saw a filver with a blanket over the radiator. Nothing like safety first. Will not be long now until the alcohol dealers will be doing a rushing business.

Tonight's the night when we get back that hour's sleep that we lost last spring. Daylight saving ends tonight and clocks will be turned back an hour.

Horseback riding seems to be doing a comeback in New Castle. Nine riders on horses were noted at one time on Washington street last night.

The next street to be paved logically on the North Hill is Blaine street. Streets are being paved all around this important thoroughfare and it's time that this street be improved.

Citizens of New Castle should remember that permits are required for starting bonfires inside the city limits. On a number of occasions recently we have noted large fires started by boys, which we suspect were started without any city permits.

See you at the fair next week.

Plan To Reduce Speed Of Trains At Death Curve

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 24.—Reduced speed for passenger trains is suggested as a means of preventing future wrecks at the dangerous curve near Gallitzin in the report today of the Bureau of Accidents of the Public Service Commission. The bureau investigated the wreck at that point on August 27 in which two railroad employees were killed and three injured. Two other fatal wrecks have occurred at the same point.

The report asserted that careful investigation failed to develop defects either in the roadbed at that point or on the equipment of the train which was derailed. Although the report does not blame the recent accident on excessive speed it is pointed out that those which occurred there formerly were caused by that reason.

Speed of trains on the curve is restricted, under the company's rules, to thirty miles an hour. Testimony of the engine crew of the second locomotive on the train was in conflict regarding the speed at which the train was travelling when the accident occurred. The estimates varied from 25 to 40 miles an hour.

Official Count Makes Bone Commissioner
MERCER, Pa., Sept. 24.—Failure of the return board in the third ward of Greenville to place a one before the 25 votes given W. A. Bone in that district for county commissioner made a shortage of 100 votes in the vote of that candidate discovered late Thursday after the unofficial returns had been given out.

The addition makes Bone one of the two nominees and defeats Gibson of Pymatuning township, who was named a winner by 16 votes without this addition considered.

Boy On Bicycle Rams Into Man On North Mercer Street—Pedestrians Laugh.

A most unusual accident occurred on North Mercer street this morning when a young chap riding a bicycle ran into a man crossing the street. No one was hurt and both man and boy took the accident good naturedly. The chap was pedaling full speed up the street when a man darted out on a sycamore alley. The boy on the bicycle saw him coming and tooted his horn—the man was almost directly in front of the kid before he saw him—and in attempting to stop—slipped on the pavement directly in front of the bicycle.

The man went down—the kid tumbled from his seat and both were lodged on the ground.

A few pedestrians who witnessed the accident merely laughed.

The man got up and resumed his journey in the same hurried like manner.

The kid brushed off his clothing, straddled his wheel and away he went.

No casualties and no damage to the vehicle.

It is seldom that a person is hit by a bicycle but that very thing took place today and it'll probably be a long time until you hear of another such accident on downtown streets here.

Couple Are Found Concealed In Trunk

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Sept. 24.—Believing his wife, Mary Strbavi of Woodlawn, to be carrying on a flirtation with a former sweetheart, Strbavi had officers raid his home but on a search failed to find anyone at home. However, investigation of a large trunk in a bedroom revealed the pair concealed there. Judge Reader in court yesterday sentenced the woman to pay the costs, a fine of $1 and serve three months in the county jail. Her sweetheart is being held on another charge.

Hold Corn Shows In Mercer Banks

MERCER, Pa., Sept. 24.—Fifteen corn shows held in that number of Mercer county banks are now being made ready for by the county farm bureau.

The 15 individual events will be followed by a county-wide contest here when the champion corn grower of the county will be named.

The two programs have their outgrowth from the arrangement made by 15 out of 20 banks in the county with the farm bureau this spring to give two checked strains of corn seed to as many corn growers as would plant them under conditions laid down by the bureau.

Big Improvement Program In City Nearing Completion

Improvements by the city of New Castle, of which there have been many during spring and summer, are fast drawing to completion and it will not be long until paving operations end.

One of the projects which is to be started but which will not be finished this fall will be widening of sections of Falls and North Mercer street, also scheduled to be resurfaced.

City Engineer Miller today said that Falls street, to be widened 3 1/2 feet on each side, will be widened this fall between North Mercer and Mill street.

The ordinance provides for widening between North Mill and North Jefferson streets but on account of weather the western end of the project will be delayed until next spring.

It is probable that the section widened will be paved immediately but the resurfacing of Falls street will be carried over also into the spring.

North Mercer, between Lawrence and Falls street, will be widened according to the ordinance for the improvement but this job will not be completed until spring.

It is planned to widen the street between North and Falls streets this fall after which the section will be resurfaced. The intersection of Falls and North Mercer street also will be resurfaced.

Early next spring the remainder of North and South Mercer to Lawrence street will be widened 2 feet on each side, the widened section will be paved, probably with brick to conform with the rest of the paving.

Concrete is now being poured in Mills way and concrete pouring will have been finished in Young street, Monday. When this job is through concrete will be laid in Boyles avenue.

Construction of a sanitary sewer in Garfield avenue is under way. Immediately after the street is laid paving will commence. A sewer is being laid by J. C. Gillfillan in Carlisle and Sumner avenue.

Work on the sanitary sewer in Sharp street, a small project, will start Monday and completion of excavation at the city building basement is to be finished.

Work at the new fire-station, South Jefferson street, is practically at a standstill, it is reported as a shipment of stone for windows necessary at this time is being awaited.

Chicago To Build Big Playground In Lake For Children

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—Lake Michigan, off Lincoln Park here, is to be filled in for a 400-acre playground to include an athletic field, golf course, archery range and bathing pavilion. It was announced by the Lincoln Park Commissioners, governing board of that section of the lake front.

Expenditure of an immediate $2,000,000 was authorized for the project. Plans have been completed for a new outer drive to extend from the far southern sections of Chicago to northern points by means of a wide drive to be constructed upon filled-in areas of the lake.

A few years ago, bordering the Illinois Central Railroad tracks, lake waves dashed against breakwaters a few feet from the runway, lashing spray through opened windows. Now the lake has been theoretically moved a distance approaching close to a mile in sections.

Off the railroad terminus, a scant mile from Chicago's loop, is to be built an airplane landing field on an island to be made in the lake.

Fifteen dredging vessels and sand transferring ships are now engaged in the work.

Admiral Magruder Scores Government In Naval Policy

He said his article was based on testimony he gave three years ago before a special naval board at Washington.

Money For 1812 War Is Repaid To County

CENTREVILLE, Md., Sept. 24.—Money raised to repel the British invasion of Maryland in 1814, during the war of 1812, has been returned to Queen Anne's county for the benefit of its educational system. A check for $14,630.77 has been received by County Treasurer F. Clayton Stevens from State Comptroller William S. Gordy and has been turned over to the county commissioners, to whom it was made payable.

The money eventually will find its way into the coffers of the county board of education.

The burning of Washington, the deaths of Admiral Sir Peter Parker and Gen. Ross, and Admiral Cockburn's bombardment of Fort McHenry, during which Francis Scott Key wrote "The Star-Spangled Banner," are all recalled by the repayment of this fund.

Collected from Baltimore City and the counties for the purpose of ridding Maryland of a foreign enemy, the contributions of four generations ago have come back, like bread cast upon the waters, to help educate Young America how to study.

The $14,630.77 represents the share of Queen Anne's county in the general defense fund raised by the citizenry of the state in time of war. Liquidation of the trust account of more than a century was provided for by a bill passed at the last legislature, and practically all of it has been turned back to Baltimore and the counties who contributed to the original fund.

Will Soon Be Able To See How Own Heart Is Working

(International News Service)
MONTREAL, Que., Sept. 24.—It probably won't be long before you can gaze on a silver screen and see your heart pumping blood, and your stomach reaching for your dinner.

The X-ray motion picture, one of science's most remarkable accomplishments today, will make this possible.

Although still in the laboratory stage, the X-ray cinematography has been sufficiently perfected to be used in something more than a workable manner in diagnosing the condition of the heart and stomach and bowel, Dr. Russell Reynolds of London, England, told members of the American Roentgen society in session here.

The moving film, he explained, is obtained by photographing with a cinematographic camera of the object thrown on a screen under a powerful light.

"The greatest difficulty is to get sufficient light on the screen to show the movement of, say, the heart, or other moving parts of the human body," Dr. Reynolds said. "But the vast scope of improvement already achieved proves the possibilities of the X-ray film."

His initial experiments along this line several years ago led Dr. Reynolds to believe that the utility of X-ray motion pictures was possible and his research work in this direction has shown marked improvement each year.

Thieves Get 50 Hens, Woman's Livelihood

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 24.—Mrs. Ella Vickery of Three Rivers pointed to her empty henhouse and appeared on the verge of tears when Deputy Sheriff Ripley arrived at her home.

During the night chicken thieves visited the coop and stole the 50 Rhode Island Reds which meant the loss of practically the one source of income Mrs. Vickery a widow in her sixties.

The thieves ventured by removing a window. They must have been professionals for they worked rapidly and the only noise Mrs. Vickery heard was the starting of an automobile which awakened her in the early morning.

This did not alarm her as automobiles are heard every night on the road which runs along the river. The loss was discovered when she went to feed her chickens.

Some Local Comment Ideas and Suggestions As Given To News Man

By ALFRED SWIFT

MISS W. J. N. SROCCZYNSKA
Polish Worker—International Institute

Now that the winter season is beginning to open up at the institute, we find that we have about as much work as we can handle, if not more. But the work is interesting, and we enjoy it. Something always new crops up every day, and it is these unexpected things which go to make up the interesting part. Of course, our regular work is far from being uninteresting. Today, though, I got one woman a job, and then had to rush up town to act as interpreter for another woman. But, it is all in the day's work.

LAWRENCE ROSE

Emerson Avenue—Elevator Attendant

One of my friends, I think, is about to get married or to go to school, I do not know which.

But, I will say this: I believe any young man who gets married before he has reached his twenty-fifth year is really foolish.

There seems to be no chance for the young married man. He is afraid to take a chance, in fact, he dare not take a chance because of his wife, and possibly, his family.

What I mean by afraid to take a chance is this: if he sees an opportunity which might mean something big in time, he dare not take it, for fear that it will not pay enough money to support himself and his family while he is working up.

WILLIAM SHIELDS

Meyer Avenue—Brakeman

The pathetic thing about each football season is the fact that to train the team and to make them the winners that they are, some one has to play the goat. And usually it is a group of fifteen or twenty boys who are commonly known as the "scrubs."

These chaps fight night after night, taking punishment which is terrific, and yet they never murmur; they never think that their lot is hard. No, they live in hopes that some time and some day, they may be able to play in a regular game. So there they sit when the first team rumps out on the field, warning the bench, with a prayer for victory, and a desire to get into the game, just to see if they have the stuff.

Scrubs, it seems to me, are to be honored just as much as the first team.

SARA MCINTOSH

Edenburg, Pa.—Saleslady

The prosperity of New Castle, it seems to me, is just entering a new era. Everywhere one looks, one can see signs which point to this. New buildings are going up, which in itself is an index of prosperity.

Of course, we have with us now as always the proverbial calamity howlers, but they would howl at any time, and so one cannot bank much on what they say. But I am sure if even they would look into the future just a little, they would be convinced also that New Castle is going to be the best city in western Pennsylvania.

Franklin Junior High Promise Navy Band Good Turnout

United States Navy Band and the program of the band is to present at the Scottish Rite Cathedral on the afternoon and evening of October 7, was the subject brought before the student body of the Benjamin Franklin Junior High School at a special assembly Friday afternoon.

J. E. Sturges, of the Band addressed the boys and girls and when at the end of the period he asked for the hands of those who wanted to see and hear the Band every hand was raised.

New Castle is really fortunate in securing an engagement from this famous band and the scholars of New Castle schools seem to realize what an opportunity they are going to have that is denied to the scholars of many other cities.

Plane Scares Cows And Stampedes Dad

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Galloping is no proper exercise for cows and the sight of a herd tearing madly about their pasture when an airplane landed there yesterday warned of Fairlawn N. J., to profanity. The fact that the aviator was his son Daniel failed to temper his wrath.

"Keep" said he in substance "that damned thing out of this pasture." His arraignment before a local justice of the peace followed and the fact that the justice was his son Samuel failed to help him. Samuel sentenced his father to half an hour's ride in the airplane a contraption he had absolutely no use for. He protested violently but his sons lifted him into the plane and Daniel took him aloft for a little plain and fancy flying.

"It was fine. I enjoyed it a lot," he said weakly, as he was assisted from the plane after the ride.

WHY LINE?

If ever you should meet James Pryde, the noted artist—his pictures have been exhibited in practically every civilized country in the world—be careful how you address him. If he is in a biting mood, he may score off you.

He scored one day off a friend whom he had not seen for some time. "How are you?" he asked pleasantly, meeting him in the street. "Oh," answered his friend, rather gloomily, "I'm keeping alive." The artist contemplated the pessimist for a few seconds, then inquired: "What's your motive?"—Answers, London.

Young Women Sue Auto Driver For $5000 Each

Claim That They Were Thrown From Car, Being Driven By H. J. Habib.

Emeline and Elizabeth Habib, by their father, Samuel Habib, have filed suits in the prothonotary's office against H. J. Habib in which they seek to recover $5000 each for injuries sustained in an automobile accident on the New Castle-Beaver road.

The Misses Habib claim that they were riding southward with H. J. Habib, when the latter pulled out to pass a car which was ahead. The car was going at a high rate of speed and it is claimed that the girls protested, whereupon Habib asked them what they knew about driving a car and proceeded to pass. The point was a cross road in Koppel. As the car ahead came to the cross roads, it turned to the left and Habib struck it. Both young women were thrown out, rendered unconscious and were laid up for seven weeks afterwards. It is said in the claim.

It is claimed that the accident was due to Habib's recklessness in attempting to pass at a cross road. In addition to the $10,000 claimed by the two young women their father, Samuel Habib asks for $173.28 in each case for securing medical attention.

News Ad Brings Back Lost Watch

Miss Jean Donnelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Donnelly, had the misfortune to lose her platinum wrist watch early last week. Now losing a watch is in itself a misfortune but this one happened to be a gift of her grandmother's and the young lady was perturbed.

Knowing the value of an ad in the News, her father, M. J. Donnelly, insisted upon inserting a classified ad immediately and as usual it produced results.

W. J. Morris of the Mercer road was in New Castle and walking along North Mercer street found the watch. He too knows the value of News ads and looking on the classified page found the lost announcement. He brought the watch to the News, Mr. Donnelly came over and identified it, and everybody is happy today. The moral is obvious.

Local Crops Not Damaged Any By Light Frosts Here

"Frosts that we have had so far this fall have only been light and no damage has been done to county farmers' crops," according to H. R. McCulloch, County Farm Bureau agent here.

"There has been light frost three or four times so far, and each time there has been considerable fog, which has dampened the soil and prevented what frost there was from doing any harm," said McCulloch today.

Trophy Case And Banner Given Franklin High

A trophy case and a school banner now adorn the Benjamin Franklin Junior High school hall and stage as gifts of the Class of 1927 of the school.

The banner which occupies the right of the stage just balancing the American flag on the other side of the stage is a large beautiful banner of blue silk with gold braid and tassels, the lettering also being of gold braid.

It fills a long felt need to balance the symmetry of the stage and in any kind of a parade or demonstration it carried with the American flag will make a fine appearance and will announce to the spectators the school that carries it.

The banner is mounted on a staff and the letters on the face of it are "Benjamin Franklin Junior High School, New Castle, Pa." The picture of Franklin is found in a circle in the center of the field of the banner. It was made in Philadelphia and before being forwarded to the school was on display in a show window in Philadelphia and created much favorable comment.

The other present of the class of 1927 to the school is a trophy case of mahogany wood and glass which has been placed in the hallway of the building. One side is being used for the cups and trophies of the school while the other half will be used for the display of products of the different departments of the school. It is a very beautiful and useful gift. In size it is about 12 feet long and 7 feet high. It is equipped with shelves of plate glass and the rear has three large plate glass mirrors the full height of the case. These add greatly to the appearance.

Credit for the making of the case is due to a great extent to H. L. McCurdy of the woodwork department of the shops of the school, who was able to secure the material and make the case with little expense to the class.

Infantile Paralysis Germ Is Classified

Main Problem Confronting Doctors In Strange Disease Is Suitable Anti-Toxin

Paralysis Germ Can Be Detected Only With Powerful Microscope

By VICTOR H. POLACHEK, Jr., International News Service Staff Correspondent

BOSTON, Sept. 24.—The germ of infantile paralysis has been definitely classified, thereby simplifying the task of science in its attempts to overcome the dread disease, Dr. W. L. Aycock, head of the Harvard Infantile Paralysis commission, said today.

Dr. Aycock, one of the leaders in infantile paralysis research, work, said that the main problem of combating the disease was to find a suitable animal in connection with the manufacture of an anti-toxin.

"We cannot find a suitable animal from whose blood we may make serum to fight infantile paralysis," said Dr. Aycock. "The only animal which takes the disease appears to be the monkey and the latter's mortality is so high that it is an unsatisfactory subject. When we discover the proper animal for serum purposes, infantile paralysis will be controlled."

Dr. Aycock pointed out that a somewhat similar problem confronted science when the diphtheria germ was first isolated and that finally it was found that diphtheria serum could be made from the blood of the horse.

The infantile paralysis germ is too small to be detected by the most powerful microscope, Dr. Aycock said, but its presence was proven by evidence of growth.

Dr. Aycock denied that an infantile paralysis epidemic existed. He pointed out that in Massachusetts there has been one-fourth the number of cases reported this year as compared to 1916.

"Parents need not worry about infantile paralysis," he said. "Fatalities from automobile accidents are far greater than that caused by this disease."

Many children are naturally immune to the germ of infantile paralysis. They may get the germ and yet be in no danger of contracting the disease. Also, children who have once had the disease will not have it again."

TOO MANY CHURCHES—

Have never discovered the whereabouts of their real enemies. Are satisfied with good preaching when they need uncomfortable preaching. Exhaust themselves in standing still. Are trying to save themselves instead of saving the people. Believe in God but trust in the layman who has money. Think that a man is safe because he has been "saved." Fail because the preacher does too much of the work.

The Way of the World

By GROVE PATTERSON

"FLABBERGASTED" Rolf Lium, the young man who preached every Sunday in the little church in the Black Hills that President Coolidge attended, says that on the first Sunday he was so flabbergasted he left out the middle of his sermon. That is not strange. It was naturally a disturbing experience for a boy to find himself preaching to the President. One can sympathize. But no man who is honest with himself ought ever to be flabbergasted in the presence of another man or of five thousand. The thing to give you confidence is the certainty that you "know your stuff." If you do not know what you are talking about, keep silent. And that will keep you from being flabbergasted.

TIMIDITY Timidity developed in childhood and never overcome with age has blocked the path of success for a multitude. Realize that nothing can be expected of you beyond your best performance. If you are willing to give that, why be timid? So long as you are doing as well as you know how, rest easy. Nobody has any claim to make you do differently. Nobody can make you do differently. Nobody can flabbergast you.

TOO LATE The former German emperor says he would like to return as a ruler to his country in order "to teach the world how to insure permanent peace." Of all our teachers, our mistakes are the best. After it is all over it is so easy to see how differently it might have been done. Capable foresight is a sublime quality that few have.

A REAL REWARD A 12-year-old Chicago boy, son of a poor man, saved the baby daughter of a rich man from drowning. The boy's reward will be an education. He will be sent through school and college. There is no finer reward. It is better than medals and loose money. Instead of having his way made easy, this boy will be put in shape to make his own independent way in the world.

JUNGLE LURE A British explorer, lost to the civilized world for two years, is found living peacefully in the jungle of middle South America. He spends his days hunting and fishing. He is uninterested in news from the civilized world. He wanted to be left alone to live the life of a barbarian. It's in all of us—the deep-down desire to return to the savage state. The lure of the jungle is constant. There are those who go back into it. Civilization is an artificial state and millions lag on the journey upward. It is a struggle to keep even, to say nothing about going ahead.

The New G-M-R Cylinder Head

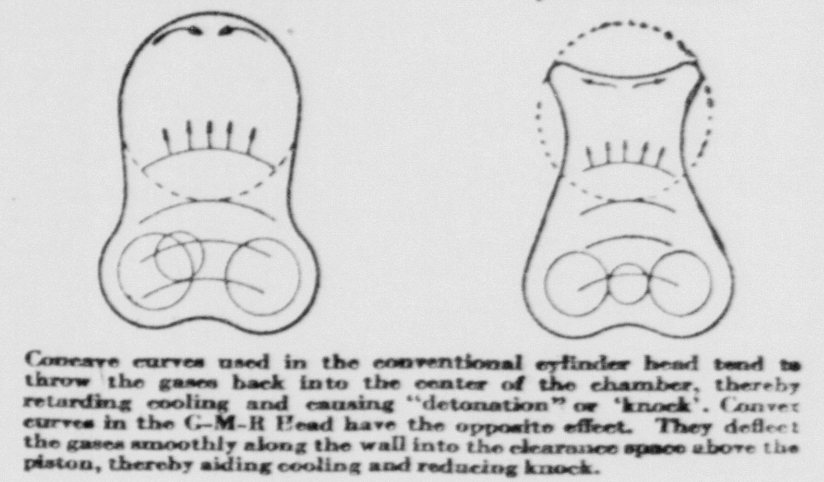

EXCLUSIVE ON THE OAKLAND ALL-AMERICAN SIX

provides Amazing Smoothness, Silence and Power

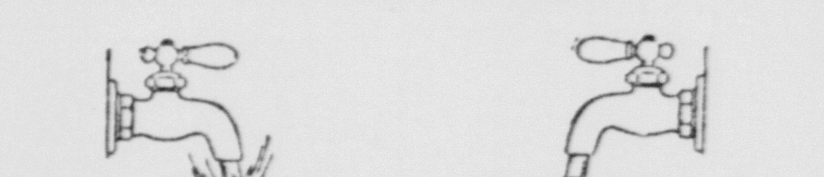

Conventional Cylinder Head

G-M-R Cylinder Head

Concave curves used in the conventional cylinder head tend to throw the gases back into the center of the chamber, thereby retarding cooling and causing "detonation" or "knock". Concave curves in the G-M-R head have the opposite effect. They deflect the gases smoothly along the wall into the clearance space above the piston, thereby aiding cooling and reducing knock.

Deep clearance space also retards cooling. Note how the depth of the clearance space in the G-M-R head has been reduced to facilitate cooling by water. Here knocking is further reduced.

Everyone who drives the Oakland All-American Six marvels at the smooth and whispering flow of power produced by the new G-M-R Cylinder Head.

Specifically, the G-M-R (General Motors Research) Head accomplishes three results:

1. It reduces "detonation" or "spark knock" to a negligible factor while using only ordinary gasoline.
2. It completely eliminates roughness or "thump"—an entirely different engine noise.

3. It provides greater power and economy because it allows the spark to be advanced to the point of maximum efficiency. (Once set, the Oakland spark remains in proper position since it is automatically controlled.)

The G-M-R Head is only one of the engineering advancements which have created such widespread favor for the All-American Six. Come in for a demonstration of the principles involved!

Will Have Hearing On Proposed Bridge At Lawrence Street

There will be a hearing before viewers at the county commissioners' office on Monday on the matter of the erection of a bridge over the Nehannock at Lawrence street, less than 100 feet south of the South Mill street bridge.

The proposition to build the bridge was turned down by one set of viewers on the grounds that it was too close to the South Mill street bridge and would be very little advantage in relieving traffic.

It is one of the proposed bridges that some have been advocating, others being at North street and the Croton avenue viaduct.

It is an adventure in living, and not an orthodoxy, to which men should be primarily summoned.—The Rev. H. R. L. Sheppard.

Sabbath Schools Will Be Visited

Speakers To Urge All Schools In County To Send Convention Quotas.

Every Sabbath school in Lawrence county will be visited by speakers Sunday in order that each school may send its full quota of delegates to the 65th annual convention of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School association to be held at the Scottish Rite cathedral October 12, 13 and 14, says Robert Strickler, president of the Lawrence County Sabbath School association.

The registration fee, which will be $2, speakers will urge to be taken from the Sabbath school treasury or by special collection.

Each Sabbath school superintendent will be asked to furnish information concerning the names of the delegates which he will send to the convention, the number of singers he will be able to furnish for the chorus choir, whether or not they have reached their full quota of delegates, and whether they have sent their registration fee to Mrs. William J. Marshall, 1327 East Washington street who is the county secretary of the association.

Shoe Department In Winter Store

Don McGrew In Charge Of New Department At Men's Store.

George Winter of The Winter Company, men's furnishing store on Washington street, today announced the inauguration of a new department, in that place of business, a shoe department, in which high class shoes for men will be handled and sold.

"There is an increasing tendency, or perhaps it would be as appropriate to say, a new tendency, on the part of high grade men's furnishing stores," said Mr. Winter, "to add the sale of shoes to their business, making it possible for men to be fitted from head to foot in the same store. It eliminates the necessity of shopping about in several stores before being outfitted. Our patrons have been urging upon us for some time, their desire to secure shoes and the new department is to meet this demand."

The new department will concentrate on the Bostonian line of shoes for men, one of the foremost types of shoes for men in America, both as to style and value. Only the best grades will be handled.

The same policy that prevails in all other departments of The Winter company store will prevail in the new department, that is to render service and fit.

In charge of the new department will be found Don McGrew, who has been in the shoe business for the past twenty years and is one of the outstanding men in this line in the city. This assures service and fit. The public is invited to inspect the new department.

TUNNEY MAY FIGHT AGAIN IN CHICAGO

Champion Is Offered Date

Chicago Business Men Offer Tunney July 4, 1928, For Championship Go

GOOD OPPONENT ONLY DRAWBACK

BY DAVID J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service
CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—Gene Tunney, successful defendant of his heavyweight championship title in a great fight two nights ago, will be invited by Chicago business men to meet the best man available with the championship at stake. The invitation will be extended during a luncheon at which Tunney will be the guest of the local committee of business men whose efforts resulted in bringing the Tunney-Dempsey fight to Soldiers' Field on Thursday night.

The invitation, it is understood, will receive an informal acceptance from the champion, with the agreement that this acceptance can only become morally binding in the event that his opponent is a first-class man.

This much Tunney made clear this morning in a conversation with an emissary of the committee. The champion's notion is expressed on this occasion was that only the best man would be acceptable and that that man only could be determined through a series of eliminations involving Dempsey, Jack Sharkey, Paulino and others.

"I want no set-up for my next fight," Tunney declared. "Get me the stand-out man in the field and the match is yours. If Rickard can line up his candidates as he did this year, I am sure that the best man available will be the survivor, and, in that case, his meeting with me would be inevitable."

Tunney was almost unmarked, in spite of his strenuous seventh round with Dempsey, during which he sat on the floor, dazed for nine and a fraction seconds, but got up in time to save his title. He dismissed with a wave of his hand Leo P. Flynn's post-bout beat about a long count.

"I sat there and listened for nine, when I heard it I got up," he said. "and when I got up I beat Dempsey. That should tell the story."

In discussing the probability of his return to Chicago next summer for another championship match, Tunney waxed eloquent about the city, its surroundings, its officials, the public and its treatment of him.

"I owe Chicago a great debt," was his parting word. "And if Chicago thinks my return would help repay that debt, I am ready to return if it is possible. The welcome I received here on my arrival will remain in my memory for life. The way I have been treated here by all with whom I have come in contact affords me another pleasant memory. I would like to add another episode to it."

"Then, there was the handling of that great crowd last night. It was perfect. Everything was discipline and order and I think such an occasion is a tribute to the game and the real men that are in it."

Coaches Announce Starting Lineups For Battle At Youngstown Today.

Coach Wally Steffen of Carnegie Tech and Dwight Beede of Westminster, announced their starting lineups for the game today at the South High stadium, Youngstown. Tech has nine veterans in the roster.

Following are the lineups submitted by the coaches:

Eastern Teams Ready To Open Grid Season

Leading College Teams Of East Will Open Gridiron Season Today

EXPERTS WATCH PENN ELEVEN

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Football swings its light artillery into action today. Many of the leading eastern teams will engage in "warm-up" contests with smaller opponents, led to the slaughter to provide a Roman holiday for the big fellows.

Overwhelming victories for the more powerful teams are not a certainty, however, as some of the weaker outfits may cause upsets by using the new lateral pass. Many coaches have not yet perfected an airtight defense against this form of attack.

The University of Pennsylvania eleven, which plays Franklin Marshall today, will be watched closely by eastern fans. Penn faces the toughest schedule in the country and even in today's opener they are likely to encounter considerable opposition.

Brown's "iron men" will tackle Rhode Island State and the strong New York University eleven plays Niagara. With a weak line and only one 1926 regular, Captain Ray Barbuti, available, Syracuse opens against Hobart.

Columbia, with a backfield strengthened by the unexpected return of Hank Kumpff to college, was prepared for another hard battle with Vermont. Bethany provided the opposition for Fordham, making its first start under Major Frank Cavanaugh, formerly Boston college coach.

Other eastern games include Amherst vs. Alfred, Cornell vs. Clarkson, Dartmouth vs. Norwich, Georgetown vs. Lenox-Rhine, Lafayette vs. Schuylkill, Lehigh vs. St. John's, Penn State vs. Lebanon Valley, Pittsburgh vs. Thiel, Rensselaer vs. Williams, Army vs. Boston University, Union vs.

Seventh Round Knockdown Fatal To Five Persons

New York City Reports Ten Deaths Resulting From The Dempsey-Tunney Fight.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—The seventh round of the Tunney-Dempsey bout, which proved disastrous to Dempsey, was fatal to ten fight fans.

According to reports received here five fans died when Jack Dempsey knocked Tunney down in the seventh. Three others died while tuning in on the fight, another died from over-excitement, and another fell dead in a heated argument over the fight.

State Gridders Meet Lebanon In First Game Today

(International News Service)
STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Sept. 24.—Undaunted by a series of minor injuries to first string men, the Nittany Lion of Pennsylvania State College today prepared for its initial gridiron test.

State meets Lebanon Valley College here in the season's opener, at the same time ushering in Coach Hugo Bezdek's tenth year as coach.

Miller and Craig, halfbacks, suffered injuries during scrimmage early in the week, and Darragh and Hastings, guards, also were nursing minor bruises. While Bezdek does not expect to call upon these men to start the game, he is not underrating the Lebanon Valley gridders, and is prepared to use his whole squad in the initial competition.

Dempsey Still Thinks He Can Defeat Tunney

Ex-Champion To File Protest With Illinois Boxing Commission

JACK DISCUSSES SEVENTH ROUND

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—"I still think I can whip Gene Tunney."

The words of Jack Dempsey, and they were uttered with considerable vehemence today as the battle-scarred ex-champion discussed the contention of his manager, Leo P. Flynn, that he had been "counted" out of the decision Thursday night in the seventh round of his championship fight with Tunney.

Dempsey declared he would file immediately a protest with the Illinois Athletic Commission. Flynn filed a protest of the decision yesterday but the commission would not entertain it because it was not signed by Dempsey.

"When Tunney fell I did go into a corner," said Jack heatedly. "The pictures show I was behind Tunney. Still the count was halted while the referee made me go into another corner. Those seconds were years then. They gave Tunney time to recover and that cost me the championship."

While Dempsey has little hope of getting the commission to alter the decision, he said he felt justified in filing the protest. Regarding Tunney, he said:

"Tunney is a great boxer. I don't suppose there is a better skilled man in the ring. But I can whip him. I knocked him out Thursday night and I can do it again."

Clifton Flats Tops Radiators

The Clifton Flats team added another game to their long string of victories, last night, at the Clifton Flats field, by toppling the Radiator Stars 5 to 3.

The game was a pitchers battle between Byak and Weyman, with the former having the better of the argument. Byak was the feature hitter of the game with a home run and double. Weyman had a triple.

Westminster and Carnegie Tech Headline At Youngstown This Afternoon

Thiel Clashes With Pitt, Duquesne, With New Castle Boys In Line-Up, Start

Four of the Tri-State college football teams will climb into action for the first time today.

After a month of intensive training the college gridders are anxiously awaiting the whistle that sends them into the fray for the lid-lifting of the 1927 season.

Westminster is opening the season today at Youngstown by meeting Carnegie Tech at the South High stadium.

At Beaver Falls the Geneva football team will hop into action with Davis-Elkins as the opposition. The game today in the valley is designated as "Home-coming" day and it is expected that Reeves Stadium will be jammed to the guards.

New Castle Represented
The Duquesne University team with Millison and Dufford two former New Castle high stars in the lineup, will battle St. Bonaventure college today at Olean, New York.

The press reports say that both Millison and Dufford will likely start the game today for the "Dukes".

Grove City and Allegheny are idle today, but they will hop off next Saturday. Allegheny is scheduled to open at Meadville next week with St. Bonaventure as the opposition.

The college is blitting off a big "chunk" today in their opening tilt with the Pitt Panthers. Coach Holleran is not too optimistic regarding his outfit this year and while the Pitt boys can be expected to push over several touchdowns, they will feel that they have been in a game at least, is the way Holleran phrases it.

George "Peg" Thomas former New Castle boy, and Johnny Leonard also a former New Castle High lineman are on the Thiel squad this year, and they may see some service in the game at the Pitt stadium. Alex Fox, former New Castle High star lineman, is making a spirited bid for a guard post on the Pitt line this year.

ALL STAR CHURCH TEAMS PICKED BY NEW CASTLE BOXER

Johnny Evans, local boxer, and baseball enthusiast makes selections today of two all-star church league baseball teams. Evans saw practically all of the games played this year.

Evans' first team follows:—Hughes, catcher, First Methodist; Shiek, pitcher, Central Christian; Lackey, pitcher, First Christian; Sheets, first baseman, First Christian; E. Bauman, second base, Central Christian; Morgan, third base, First Christian; Cowmeadow, short-stop, Central Christian; Patton, left-field, First Christian; A. Bauman, middle-fielder, Central Christian; and Bender, right field, First Christian.

The second team is composed of Young, catcher, First Baptist; Hughes, pitcher, First Methodist; A. Frazer, first base, Central Presbyterian; E. Lockley, second base, First Methodist; Evans, short-stop, First Baptist; Jones, third base, Central Christians; S. Lockley, right field, First Methodist; Miller, middle field, Croton M. E.; Melder, left field, Central Presbyterian.

College Grid Teams To Open Season Today

Much Speculation As College Grid Teams Amble Into Action

NOTRE DAME IS UNKNOWN TEAM

By GENE HOFFMAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—Thud and a bit uncertain, football, the king of collegiate sport, will make its 1927 debut on a hundred American grid-irons today.

Although today's games are little more than practice tilts for the big contests to come later, the results will be watched with interest as a clue to what may be expected from various machines which are destined to battle for championship and inter-sectional honors.

Interest throughout the middle west centers chiefly on Notre Dame, two or three other non-conference teams which are always a threat to sectional and national supremacy. None of the Big Ten conference schools have games scheduled except scrimmage tests between first and second string teams.

Notre Dame Unknown.
"What has Rockne got? is a cry familiar from coast to coast about this time every year. The secret may not be given up today as the Irish clash only with their own freshman squad. The resourceful coach of Notre Dame is understood to have a few new tricks up his well-known sleeve, most important of which is said to be a new style of attack. Whether this will be unleashed this afternoon against the freshmen remains to be seen.

Rockne is always a fascinating mystery at the opening of the pigskin season and this year is no exception. His 1927 charges number unknown quantities.

Other mid-western games that will be watched closely today are: Marquette versus St. Viator at Milwaukee; Butler versus Indiana Normal at Indianapolis; Cincinnati and Kentucky Wesleyan at Cincinnati; Michigan State versus Kalamazoo Aggies at East Lansing, Mich. and Detroit versus Adrian at Detroit.

University of Chicago is one of the big mysteries of the Western conference this year. Coach Alonso Stange, veteran exponent of line-backing plays, is said to be converted to the passing game. He was quickened to this decision by the lightness of this year's backfield.

Stagg has been drilling his charges twice daily, much of the time being devoted to developing the fast aerial plays. The squad will get its first test of the season next Saturday against Oklahoma. One week later the Maroons open the conference season against Indiana.

Important Game At Pittsburgh

Pirates Must Defeat Giants
Today To Stay In Front
Of Flag Chase

CARDINALS ARE LOSING GROUND

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—The Giants, who made it two out of three by scoring a sensational victory over Pittsburgh yesterday, tackle the Pirates for the last time today in a game that undoubtedly will make or break the New Yorkers. They are only 2½ games behind the leaders this morning but must win the final game in order to stay in the running.

A victory for New York also would revive the drooping Cardinals, whose defeat by the Boston Braves yesterday cost them second place and left them three full games behind Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh still needs six victories in its remaining eight games to clinch the pennant, provided New York and St. Louis make a clean sweep. Even if the Pirates win only five out of eight, however, the Giants and Cardinals cannot afford to lose a single game. The standing:

Won Lost To play Pct
Pittsburgh 89 57 8 .610
New York 87 60 7 .592
St. Louis 86 60 8 .589

The Giants "pulled a Tunney" yesterday, nosing out the Pirates 6 to 5 after they apparently had been knocked out. Led by Pie Traynor, who walked a triple with the bases full, the Bucs kayoed Burleigh Grimes and led 5 to 0. The Giants finally got to Carmen Hill, however, and gave him the works. Lindstrom singled with the bases jammed in the seventh and in the ninth he came home with the winning run after tying the score with a triple.

Fourier's homer in the ninth enabled Joe Genewich of the Braves to win a 3 to 2 duel from old Pete Alexander of the Cardinals. After Hafey had clouted a homer with one on in the first inning, Genewich stood for no nonsense from the Cards.

The Cubs, who still have an outside chance to finish in the money, tagged Alex Ferguson and "Weeping" Willoughby for 17 hits and plastered the Phillies 10 to 0. Hal Carlson toyed with the Phils, formerly his fellow slaves in the Baker gallery.

After the Reds had trimmed Brooklyn 6 to 3, Ray Moss, Brooklyn rookie from Memphis, subdued the Porkville boys and won his own game with a triple, 4 to 3.

In the only game played in the American league the White Sox ended their losing streak of 12 games by nosing out the Red Sox 2 to 1.

PICKING WINNERS IN FISTIC BATTLES IS DIFFICULT TASK

So far there is no one man who can lay claim to having picked winners in all of the athletic events staged since the serpent intrigued Adam and it isn't probable that any will accomplish such a task before Gabriel sounds his trumpet.

However, sport scribes, ever willing to take a chance aren't a bit backward; at least, not the majority who are unafraid to pen their convictions and now that the last Dempsey-Tunney fight is over here's collection of pre-fight opinions from boxing writers:—

Warren Brown, Herald-Examiner, Chicago: Wouldn't take a chance.

Jim Doyle, Plain-Dealer, Cleveland: Tunney should be a favorite but I'll take a chance on Dempsey.

Bob Edgren, Evening World, New York, dean of boxing writers: Jack Dempsey by a knockout.

Ed Dickerson, Herald, Grand Rapids: Tunney by a knockout.

See Taylor, Register-Tribune, Des Moines: Tunney, perhaps by a knockout.

Harry Bullion, Free Press, Detroit: Dempsey.

Ed Hughes, Eagle, Brooklyn: Tunney figures to win but I would not be surprised to see anything happen.

Hype Igoe, World, New York: On form, Tunney but I'm playing a hunch on the Old Gladiator.

Ned Brown, World, New York: Tunney by a knockout.

Harry Cross, Herald-Tribune, New York: Tunney figures to win.

Jack Farrell, Daily News, New York: Dempsey by a knockout.

Ray Campbell, News, Cleveland: Tunney by a knockout.

Pat Frayne, Call, San Francisco: Dempsey to stay with a good chance to win.

Harry Hochstadter, Post, Chicago: Tunney.

James R. Gould, Star, St. Louis: Gene should win.

James R. Harrison, Times, New York: If it's on the level, Tunney.

W. O. McGeehan, Herald-Tribune, New York: Tunney.

Ed Fritz, News, New Castle: I'm picking Dempsey on a hunch but if Tunney can get a lead and tie up Jack he will win decision.

William Morris, Evening Post, New York: In view of what happened in Sharkey-Dempsey and Paulino-Delaney bouts how can you pick anybody?

Harry Keck, Sun-Telegraph, Pittsburgh: Tunney.

Harry Smith, Chronicle, San Francisco: Tunney.

Ed Bangs, News, Cleveland: Any man who can hit like Dempsey cannot be counted out in advance.

Ed Cochran, Journal-Post, Kansas City: Tunney will win.

Wilbur Wood, Sun, New York: I'm not picking as you can't tell about these big heavyweight fights. Otherwise I would favor Tunney.

And this is the way the rest of the boxing writers of the country opined, "Yes," "No," "He Will" and "He Won't." Some were right and others wrong; likewise the well known ring celebrities themselves.

Sillman will be at quarterback today, in place of Reider it was indicated.

Giants Rally To Top Pirates, 6-5

Pittsburgh Fails To Hold
Five-Run Advantage In Crucial Game Friday

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 24.—With apparent defeat staring them in the face, the New York Giants came from behind to cut down a five-run lead that the Pittsburgh Pirates held earlier in the game and following two pretty rallies the McGraw men emerged victorious in one of the crucial games at Forbes field yesterday, the setto ending 6-5.

By winning this encounter the Giants crept a game closer to the pennant and the Pirates' lead today is 2½ games. Boston beat St. Louis yesterday 3-2 and as the result of this game the Giants moved back to second place in the league standing.

Hill On Knoll.

Carmen Hill was assigned to the knoll yesterday and was pitching fine ball until the seventh when the Giants pushed four runs across the plate. The Pirates, however, were still one run to the good and Hill remained in the box. In the ninth he was nicked again, this time going down to defeat.

Traynor's triple in the first inning with the runways jammed was sufficient to sew up the game, but a five-run lead meant nothing to the Giants. Lloyd Waner was the batting star of the afternoon the centerfielder smashing out four singles in five trips to the plate. New York and Pittsburgh meet again today here.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN.

Jack Sharkey, the man who looms as the most logical contender for the heavyweight title now resting on the china cabinet for a few months at least, has changed somewhat since his memorable battle with Jack Dempsey.

The man who trained for the battle of fouls was a laughing, boastful care-free young man, oozing confidence and rollicking along in the belief that the world was his to be conquered.

Today he carries a bitterness in his heart—and a cynical smile on his lips.

This is but natural. You'd smile derisively at fate, too, had you flirted with the fortune that lay ahead of Sharkey—and was collected by Dempsey—in his ensuing battle with Tunney.

Sharkey's bitterness comes partly from the sincere belief that he was fouled out of his big shot.

During a visit to Tunney's camp, fense of his title one of the boys remarked to Sharkey that he "ought to be the man getting ready for a crack at Gene instead of attending the ceremonies as a "scribe."

"Well, could I help it?" Sharkey blurted out.

Sharkey still cherishes the belief that his battle with Dempsey was a grudge fight—that Dempsey was seriously bitter toward Sharkey because of the latter's rough remarks concerning him, his ability and mannerisms. He likes to carry this thought.

However, down in his heart he carries considerable respect for Dempsey. Watching Tunney train Sharkey commented frequently on the Marine's style.

"That fellow's fighting low, like Dempsey," Jack remarked about one of the sparring partners. "But he isn't moving around like Dempsey. Jack is never standing still although you think he isn't a shifty fighter on his feet."

"That short jolt to the stomach didn't hurt Tunney. But if Dempsey had had that chance Mr. Tunney would have felt it."

And so the comment ran.

Sharkey has entirely recovered from any ill effects that he might have suffered at Dempsey's hands. He finds himself in an interesting position—the only man in the game today who has the background and the reflected popularity so to speak that entitles him to big money in the heavyweight game—outside the champion.

The general feeling is that the next heavyweight title bout will be built up around Sharkey—if he isn't finally the man chosen to meet the champion.

His manager John Buckley realizes this and is calmly awaiting advances—financial ones.

It is generally believed that several of the veterans wearing the raiment of the Philadelphia Athletics this season will be missing before the 1928 campaign comes around.

Not only did Cobb, Collins and Wheat show their advancing age in their play, but there is a general feeling that a super abundance of managerial timber on the team handicapped it in the 1927 drive—the most disappointing season that the likeable Connie Mack has ever had to suffer.

Cobb, Collins and Wheat are all rated as brilliant baseball men. Cobb and Collins had served as managers.

Wheat had often piloted the Brooklyn club for periods at least. All are capable teachers, as far as actually imparting the fine points of the game is concerned.

In addition to these players, Connie had, as aides, the veteran Kid Gleason and Earl Mack, Connie's son. Gleason served long and ably as White Sox pilot. Mack, Jr., has managed minor league clubs and has been chief adviser to his dad.

The feeling is general that the net result of all this pedagogical talent on the team was a confusion of instructions and a consequent confusion and uncertainty in the general play of most of the other members.

As one well-meaning critic remarked to me: "Imagine so-and-so at bat, with Cobb, Collins and Mack all trying to tell him what to do."

Now this may be overstating the matter a bit, but it conveys the impression.

However, what is more to the point, Connie realizes that the mere presence of Cobb, Collins, et al., did not bring about a realization of his dreams this year—and that they will not be any younger or of any more value next season. What Connie needed more than anything else this season was dependable pitching and a smoothly working infield. Collins did not prove the snubbing post at second that Connie hoped he would.

But one feature of the Athletics' play proved satisfactory to Connie the past season—the batting. The Mickmen had a .300 hitting club, and with better defensive play all around might have lived up to the expectations of 75 per cent of the critics and so-called critics.

Connie has a perfect right to feel disappointed. He had high hopes of getting better pitching through the guidance of crafty Kid Gleason. Not even the kid could pull the thing over.

"How did you play today?" asked the wife of the world's worst golfer.

"I'm terrible; I got 144," replied the husband sorrowfully.

"What does a good player like Bobby Jones go around in?" asked the wife.

"It's nothing for him to get a 72," was the reply.

"Well, you shouldn't feel so blue. He ought to be twice as good as you, hadn't he?" inquired the sweet creature.—From the New York Sun.

W. Y. STOCKS

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Under the leadership of General Motors, old and new stock, Houston Oil and a small number of the market specialties, a sharp rally in prices was set in motion at the beginning of today's short session of the stock market.

General Motors jumped 5 points to above 269 in the first period, in response to rumors that the directors at the November meeting would definitely place the new stock on a $7 dividend basis, in addition to ordering an extra dividend of $2 a share. Bullish forces easily carried the day as the price of this recognized leader was swept along in a confident wave of new buying. The old stock reached 271 before the end of the first half hour in one of the most impressive "bullish" demonstrations of the week.

The failure of any great volume of liquidation to reach the market in the last two days and the virtual drying up of the source of supply of speculative stocks on a falling price movement, was taken as an evidence of the surprising strength of the market at this time. The week-end business reviews were colorless as far as the indications of the fall business revival were concerned.

Announcement of the Giant combination of Philadelphia and New York utility companies into a $700,000,000 merger stimulated active buying of the utility stocks. Consolidated gas resumed its spectacular forward move, while Philadelphia company and other well known light and power stocks were taken at the best level of prices for the current movement. An enormous expansion in public utility service is now under way.

The sharp advance in Houston Oil, inaugurated near the close of Friday's session, was also resumed today and the stock sold above 152 for a gain of 10 points in the two sessions. Wall Street heard that powerful banking interests had entered into the active management of the company's affairs, with a view to a broad development of its facilities for supplying gas light to a wide territory.

Bullish pools pressed their advantage in the close-held industrial and specialty stocks, but on the whole the market revolved in a narrow radius. Consolium, Davison Chemical and a few other specialties dived around in an active but meaningless manner, while the well known and Standard oils responded with slightly higher prices to the reported improvement in the crude oil situation.

Industrial stocks and specialties retained their strong tone in the final period. Stocks of the insurance companies pushed forward in good form, under the lead of Montgomery Ward. Standard oils were strong, with New Jersey and New York at 31 1/2. An American sold up fractionally, while various specialties received the benefit of pool support. Market steel and tire stocks were firm at the close.

Boy Traffic Cops At Thaddeus-Stevens

For the first time the Thaddeus-Stevens school is using some of their boys as traffic cops to assist scholars in crossing Washington street in the morning, noon and evening.

Many of the schools of the city have adopted the method of using certain boys to regulate traffic on the streets adjoining the building at the hours of school convening and dismissing school.

The boys are appointed for a certain number of days and with stop sign in their hands hold up automobiles until a stream of children can cross in safety.

The boys do very well at the task and courteously refrain from holding the traffic too long but insist that the children also have a chance to cross in safety.

Almost all motorists respect the boys and with few exceptions accede to the demands to stop with a smile on their faces.

Freshman Circus On College Field

Stunt Day At Westminster Proves Most Successful—Students Go To Youngstown.

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Sept. 24.—Today has been a busy one for students, faculty and townspeople at New Wilmington. Starting with the Freshman Circus on the athletic field this morning at 9 o'clock, everything has been moving at high speed.

Each dormitory and fraternity group of freshmen had its own stunt or side show as part of this morning's circus which lasted for more than an hour. An indication of the size of the outdoor jamboree can be had when it is known that hay wagons, horses, automobiles, boxes, barrels and other "properties" were used in staging the freshman show.

The whole morning activity was under the general direction of Howard Kelly chairman of the upper class committee and the faculty committee. After a roll call of freshmen the announcer ushered in each act with appropriate remarks. Following the circus a recessional from the field to the college gymnasium added color and humor.

By 11 o'clock many students were seen leaving town in the general direction of Youngstown. The football squad left on special busses at noon. In all probability the players will return early this evening.

Officers Hunt Stolen Gems In New York City

Wife Of Western Millionaire
Loses Gems Valued At $100,000.

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Secrecy which surrounded the six-day search for $100,000 in gems stolen from Mrs. Frank G. Allen, wife of a western millionaire banker, was dropped today as scores of police and private detectives toured the pawnshops and known "fences" of the metropolitan area.

Mrs. Allen missed her jewels after a taxicab trip with her husband and their 12-year-old granddaughter from a Cunard line pier to a local hotel. The Allens had just returned from abroad.

The gems were carried in a leather case, the police learned, which Allen gave to the driver with an admonition to "keep an eye on it." A servant followed in another cab with luggage.

The Allens identified the picture of a taxicab driver at police headquarters as the man they think drove them to the hotel. The driver has not been arrested, but it is learned that police have him under surveillance.

ABE MARTIN On Uncle Al Smiley

UNCLE AL SMILEY TAKIN' UP GOLF AT 167.

With th' passin' o' Uncle Al Smiley a few days ago a gentleman o' rare ability faded out o' th' picture. Uncle Al wuz a familiar figure on our streets fer over three-quarters of a century, an' had belonged t' no less'n twenty-eight cornet bands that had been organized from time t' time. His whiskers completely covered his vest as long ago as 1876, when he was a piccolo player at th' Tilden an' Hendricks clubrooms, an' while he never allowed 'em t' git th' best o' him, they required considerable care an' in all probability they were instrumental in keepin' him from reachin' th' eminence his abilities so fully justified. He wuz th' only member o' th' ole Greenback party that refused t' shave after th' blow up. He wuz an exceptional plasterer in his earlier days, but became estranged thro' his interest in world affairs, an' plastered very little after th' silver crime o' '73.

He wuz a ready alto player, an' had a peculiar fondness fer th' oboe, an' had it not been fer an early love affair he might have gone fer as an oboe player. Uncle Al got as fer as Cincinnati durin' th' civil war, an' he allus regarded th' pension list as a roll of honor, an' at th' time of his death he wuz pullin' down a little better'n $75 a month. He wuz progressive an' he never got ole, his whiskers bein' all that linked him with th' past. He wuz up bright an' early ever mornin' durin' th' cruiser conference at Geneva, an' wuz heart an' soul in sympathy with our Nicaraguan policy. He wanted t' live t' see our whole navy scrapped an' flyin' come into its own. He loved t' compare Lindbergh's darin' exploit with our "brave an' adventurous heroes" who blazed a trail t' th' great, unknown west on horseback closely followed by a caravan loaded with flour.

an' bacon, an' p'aters an' powder. He had no use fer Christopher Columbus, who floundered around fer months an' wuz finally driven aground on th' shores of America. George Washin'ton didn' fool him either, an' he allus referred t' him as a very ordinary civil engineer who spent ever' nickel he could git fer fancy waistcoats an' saddles. He wuz an admirer o' Mussolini, an' had no use fer boards an' commissions. He wuz careful t' lay off o' salads an' custards on account of his whiskers. He wuz fond o' cold slaw, but he et it in his room. He never allowed leaves an' sticks, or egg, t' find lodgment in his whiskers, an' he liked th' way women dress. He rarely mentioned Coolidge, but he wuz strong fer another term fer Mellon. He died last Thursday at th' age of 108, jest exactly four days t' th' minute after his doctor had told him t' cut out his coffee.

The Daybook OF A New Yorker

BY BURTON RASCOE

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—A study of contrast in the automat: Two men are lunching at opposite sides of a high table. The first, a little, olive-complexioned man is obviously out of his mind. He wears an oddly-contrasting set of clothing a cap such as is worn by a railroad engineer, a shirt without a collar and pinned together at the throat with a safety pin, a soiled and threadbare tweed coat, belted in back and of the sort that might have been discarded by a member of a fashionable golf club and black trousers that might have once been the nether part of a full dress suit. The fellow has a facial aspect somewhat like the painting of an Italian Primitive of a very holy young man.

Across the table is a burly, middle-aged fellow weighing all of 200 pounds, most of it muscle. His face is coarse, animal like, brutal. He stares at the ascetic-looking young man, who is eating a piece of chocolate cake and drinking tea as though the very existence of the ascetic-looking young man were a personal affront. Plainly he is thinking that Providence should take care that such thin weaklings with tea and cake appetites should not be born.

The big man has an appetite and yet is obviously restrained by some annoying inner necessity of the moment from enjoying it properly. Before him is a huge plate of hash, a baked potato, several slices of bread, tomato catsup, a slab of blueberry pie and a cup of coffee. It took quite a number of nicks in the slot to acquire that meal and some dexterity in transferring it to the table.

Suddenly the big man ceases to stare wonderingly at the little man and falls upon his food like a snarling animal at feeding time in the zoo, and bolts it all in an incredibly few minutes. Still unsatisfied he goes twice to the little glass doors, deposits his money in the slot and returns with sandwiches and more pie and eats them quicker than at least Frisco could say Jack Robinson.

The little man on the other hand cats as though he were indulging in a sacred rite. From time to time he casts a glance of condescension at the burly fellow as if to say "I forgive you, you poor swine; for you know nothing of the aesthetics of eating." He barely touches the fork to the cake after scanning it from all angles and conveys only a tidbit to his mouth. He sips his tea as though it were rare liqueur. When the burly man has finished his gargantuan lunch the thin man still has a morsel of cake and a sip of tea left. They exchange glances and the burly man leaves. The burly man glowers. The thin man gives him a most insulting glance of superior tolerance.

Bob (Robert C.) Benchley has been writing the gag and dialogue of a musical comedy. The play has been in rehearsal. One of Bob's gags goes (or went) like this:

"Where's your chivalry?"

"I traded it in and bought a Dodge."

The gag has been cut out. The director said the gag was too subtle for the New York audience; that nobody would get it.

Now you can gauge the mentality of a New York audience or at least of that portion of it that makes a play profitable to produce.

There is a girl assistant at a nearby library who certainly takes the prize for hazarding the most far-fetched guess of the year. Her inquired-for Forster's "A Passage to India." The librarian said she thought it was one of Ouida's books and spent quite a little time searching for it on the "O" shelf.

Nothing is so tragic about the disappearance of the New England leaven from American life as the fact that New England itself destroyed so much of that leaven.—Honore Willies Morrow.

SCHOOL LIBRARY BEING INSTALLED AT ROSE AVENUE

A library of nearly 300 books has been installed in the Rose Avenue school. This fine addition to the school has been made possible chiefly by the efforts of the teachers and scholars of the school. Entertainments and plays given last year netted most of the money necessary.

Miss Anna Cox, teacher of music in the school has been put in charge of the library. All of the classes from the third grade up will be given one period in the library where their activities in reading up assignments or the general use of the library will be under the direction of Miss Cox.

The school is fortunate in having a room that can be utilized as a library. It has been equipped with book cases, tables and chairs so as to make it a very important part of the school. Each afternoon periods will be held for the different classes.
